Joe Censure Move Goes To Committee

McCarthy Demands Cross Examination Power; Senate Asks Report On Probe Later This Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate created a special six-member committee Monday night to recommend whether Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) should be censured.

The action was approved on a motion by Senate majority leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) by a vote of 75 to 12.

The committee's members will be named by Vice President Richard M. Nixon with instructions to report their recommendation to the Senate later this year. The Senate will then decide whether to censure the controversial legislator. Three Republicans and three Democrats will serve on the group.

McCarthy promised to appear before the group for questioning. He demanded the right to cross-examine witnesses and said he would show up his Senate critics as "consummate liars."

The Senate vote climaxed three days of debate on a motion of censure filed by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.). Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) broadened the scope of the Flanders motion by filing six specific charges against McCarthy, followed by Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.) who filed similar charges.

Setting Of State Levy Is Delayed

Equalization Board Doing Final Work

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The "tax mess" in Nebraska which was the subject of hours of debate in the last Legislature and the subject of calling a special session for Constitutional amendments, was ignored again Monday by Gov. Robert Crosby who was busy making campaign speeches in his race for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Although it was the day set by law for fixing the state levy and equalization of assessments so that counties can make their levies by Aug. 10, the board continued to hold hearings for county boards and delayed action on the basis of an attorney general's opinion that courts have held that levies may be delayed.

Auditor Ray Johnson, who has been "acting governor" at the equalization meetings that have extended over a week, said he questioned that the state levy can be set before Wednesday.

Recommendations Sought
Johnson said that the board has asked the tax commissioner to have all field men discuss equalization between counties from their experience in watching county assessments and to recommend to the board where changes should be made.

The board, Johnson said, will then use these figures as a guide together with information the members received at the hearings to make their final decision. He said it was possible the board could meet Tuesday afternoon but probably the work could not be completed before Wednesday.

Johnson said that he did not believe the board could question the accuracy of assessments of counties that returned schedules within 5 or 6 per cent of comparable counties and the equalization action taken last year.

The counties appearing Monday continued to object to having all counties raised or lowered on the basis of the valuations presented by Douglas County.

No Blanket Action
Johnson expressed the opinion that no blanket increases could be made or blanket decreases for counties which maintained the levels set by the board last year. He said action would have to be made on the basis of showings in each individual county.

A number of counties objected to changes being made and pointed out that the officials have completed work on the basis of valuations submitted and changes would require all of the work to be repeated.

However, they insisted that the low counties be brought up to the level of the majority rather than the majority reduced to the level of the minority.

mosphere, with the public galleries filled with spectators. Knowland moved to refer the entire matter to a special committee.

Flanders voted against referring the matter to committee, McCarthy voted "present."

The 11 other senators who voted against shutting the dispute to a committee were Dennis Chavez (D-NM), John S. Cooper (R-Ky), Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), James H. Duff (R-Pa.), J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.), Lister Hill (D-Ala.), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.), Mike Monroney (D-Okla.).

No Party Lines

The vote to send the censure motion to committee did not follow party lines. Forty Republicans, 34 Democrats and one Independent (Morse) voted for the motion, and nine Democrats and three Republicans voted against it.

McCarthy told the Senate he would appear before the committee and, he said, he assumed he would be "able to put to rest the irresponsible charges made against me in the last few years."

But McCarthy said he wanted six other senators who have attacked him to appear before the special group.

Most of them readily agreed to testify before the special committee.

Fulbright and Morse each filed a "bill of particulars" setting forth specific accusations against McCarthy.

The Arkansan accused McCarthy, in effect of "shaking down" the defunct Lustron Corp. for $10,000. It was this charge McCarthy challenged Fulbright to repeat off the Senate floor.

Libel Action

The Wisconsinite said that he had collected $16,000 in a libel action against a New York newspaper for having printed charges concerning McCarthy's receipt of $10,000 from the Lustron Corp.

He challenged Fulbright to repeat his charges about this off the Senate floor and face a similar suit. Fulbright humorously replied: "He knows that will bankrupt me and I'm scared to death."

The Democrats recalled that McCarthy sued former Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.) for one million dollars but withdrew the suit before it came to trial.

"What a pleasant thing it is to be in the same room with this man!" Fulbright exclaimed.

Fulbright said McCarthy has a "talent for confusion" and a "kind of genius" in not conforming to normal standards of society.

He declared that McCarthy would demand 500 or 5,000 witnesses and that if the proposed committee did not call them he would accuse the investigators of "being soft on Communism."

At the outset McCarthy warned that if his critics submit to his cross-examination "they'll either indict themselves for perjury or prove what consummate liars they are."

Higher License Fee Urged To Aid Driver Training

A committee of state legislators recommended Monday that the cost of a driver's license in Nebraska be increased to $3, the extra dollar going to pay the cost of driver training courses in the public schools.

The committee also recommended that all drivers be re-examined every five years to make sure they still are qualified to hold licenses, and that regulations dealing with revocation of licenses be strengthened.

The report came from a Nebraska Legislative Council committee on laws pertaining to motor vehicle operators' licenses.

The study was ordered by the last Legislature.

Court Hearing To Open In State Power Fight

Action Names 61 Defendants; Hope For Mutual Settlement Is Not Gone

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Members of Nebraska's public power family will enter District Court Tuesday at Columbus in a general effort to untangle their varying interpreted duties and responsibilities.

Specifically they are being summoned by an action brought April 16 headed by the Custer Public Power District, Broken Bow, in company with several other Nebraska REAs, naming among the defendants the Nebraska Public Power System, the Consumers Public Power District through the Platte Valley Public Power District, state officials and other REAs—in all 61 defendants.

Avowed purposes of the suit are to stop the sale of $17,600,000 in revenue bonds offered by NPPS in April to construct a steam generating plant near Beatrice; to prevent the declared intention of the Consumers Public Power District, which itself has projected plans for a south-east Nebraska steam generating plant; to refuse to do business with the proposed NPPS plant, and to obtain a settlement of the relationship each public power agency shall have toward each other public power structure.

Both Schacht and DeBoer insisted that Myers had been given no official go-ahead signal to solve the Nebraska problem.

But it is known that Myers favored the dissolution of the present public power state budget board. He would broaden the base of election of public power directors, replace the budget board with a more sovereign presiding group.

Myers, it is said, has also recommended that power and irrigation districts concentrate on irrigation and refrain from electric problems beyond selling their current to the state power pool on a wholesale basis.

He is also said to have suggested an answer to whom shall build and own steam generation facilities by a form of common investment according to best credit, facilities with the operator of the facilities to be designated on the basis of which is best from the point of view of public power as a whole.

Possibly in conflict with the Myers' formula is a move by the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District to withdraw from the state group and become more or less autonomous in its area which is roughly from Grand Island to Ogallala, south to the state line. But it is understood that Platte Valley would like to continue selling bulk power into the state pool and tapping the latter when its regional load demanded more than the district itself can provide.

Martin Johnson, Farnam Native, One Of Seven Commies Arrested

Man And Wife Team, Joseph, Maia Scherrer Nabbed In Colorado; Nebraskan Led Utah Party

DENVER (AP)—FBI agents Monday arrested a man and his wife, naming them as leaders of the Communist party in Colorado and raising to seven the number of party figures arrested in Colorado and California in the last 24 hours.

All seven are charged with violation of the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Held in the county jail in default of $100,000 bond each are Arthur Barry, 42, his wife Anna, 29; Harold Zepelin, 28; and Lewis M. Johnson, 34, described as head of the Communist party in Utah.

Johnson is a native of Farnam, Nebraska.

In addition, Mrs. Patricia Blau, 42, formerly of Colorado, was arrested earlier at Los Angeles.

Charles W. Brown, FBI agent-in-charge here, said Joseph William Scherrer, 34, was arrested Monday at his residence in

The dead were identified as: Tommy O. Drey, 30, Beulah Edwards, 36.

Hospitalized in Hastings were Gerald Edwards of Grand Island, driver of the car; Charles Dice of Grand Island, a passenger; and John E. Peters, 39, of Sutton, driver of the truck.

The two deaths were the 171st and 172nd traffic fatalities of the year compared to 155 last year at this date.

Atomic Bill Progress Indicated

Agreement Seen On Main Purposes

WASHINGTON (P)—The chairman of the Senate-House conferees on the atomic energy bill said Monday an "acceptable" compromise on the key private-vs.-public power issue appeared to be in the making.

The 10 conferees ended their first full day of closed-door sessions without settling any of the major disputes.

But Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, said a compromise plan had been suggested which might solve the question as to whether the government should go into the nuclear power business.

Specific Authority

This plan calls for a grant of specific authority to the Atomic Energy Commission to go ahead with construction of a full-scale, commercial-size power plant on a research and development basis.

Cole said he felt this authority was inherent in the bill as originally drafted by his committee, but that some others did not.

Remaining to be settled, he said, was the disposition of the plant after the AEC had put it into operation and "proved up" the feasibility of atomic power.

But he commented that the "trend of thinking" among the conferees appeared to be that the AEC should not operate such a plant once it has been proved successful.

Cole said the plant could be sold to a private utility on the basis of the highest bid, or turned over to another federal agency which is in the power business such as the Tennessee Valley Authority, or perhaps even to a state agency.

Lincoln Star Special
FARNAM, Neb.—A check with Farnam residents late Monday failed to disclose anyone who knew of or about Martin Johnson, 34, who was arrested in Denver by the FBI as a Communist party leader.

Postmaster W. E. Parker said he had gone through his records but had been unable to locate anything in regard to Johnson, who has listed his birthplace as Farnam.

Pueblo, Brown said many party meetings had been held at the residence.

Agents took Scherrer's wife, Maia, 36, into custody at Stapleton Airfield here. They declined to discuss the circumstances of her arrest.

Brooklyn Native

Mrs. Scherrer is a native of Brooklyn. Her father was born in Russia.

The Scherrers were arraigned before a U.S. commissioner and bonds set at $100,000 each, after which they were taken to the county jail.

The FBI earlier rounded up three men and a woman as they stood on the sidewalk on Logan Street, a half block from the Capitol building.

Arthur Barry, chairman of the Colorado Communist party, and regional organizer for five Western states, told reporters that the $100,000 bond "is tantamount to no bond at all. It will be impossible to meet it."

Joseph D. Neff, U.S. commissioner, said a preliminary hearing will be held Aug. 16. Neff said the four arrested earlier seemed to regard their arraignment as "all a big joke."

Suspended

The Defense Department, at the same time, suspended its contracts with Watson for hauling explosives, but after an inquiry of its own reinstated these contracts in January of this year.

Of the ICC investigations, Hanson asserted:

"This record offers no basis for a conclusion that applicant has willfully violated any statute rule, rule or regulation."

"On the contrary, the facts definitely establish that applicant for more than a year has been in substantial compliance with all regulations and that it now has established an excellent safety program."

The examiner noted that this program includes a provision that if any driver handling explosives exceeds 45 miles per hour he will be discharged.

The report recalled that the first of the spectacular accidents was on Oct. 9, 1953 near Omaha, when an explosive-laden truck travelling about 50 miles an hour rammed the rear of a passenger car. In the fire and explosion which followed, three of the car passengers were killed. Hanson said the accident "apparently was caused by the careless and recklessness of applicant's (Watson's) driver," and that the driver was discharged.

Mrs. Pearl Kidd Dies Here At 58

Mrs. Pearl Kidd, 58, of 3815 Huntington, died Monday night at her home.

Armas Forced To Agree To Agree

Army Cadets Revolt Against Junta Forces

GUATEMALA (P)—Guatemala's military junta bowed to disgruntled army units Monday night and ordered the disbanding of President Carlos Castillo Armas' revolutionary "Liberation Army" after a day-long battle in which 12 persons were killed and 42 wounded.

The fighting started with a dawn brawl between 120 military cadets and members of the liberation force encamped at Roosevelt Hospital just outside the capital. Regular army units from Aurora Air Base quickly joined in and attacked the irregulars' camp with mortars and tanks. Firing was very heavy in the hospital zone.

A cease-fire became effective at 6:35 p.m. and 700 Liberation Army men surrendered their arms to regular army officers.

But a spokesman for the American Embassy reported late Monday night that "very great tension" continued in the capital and there was a possibility of a popular uprising.

The American spokesman said civilian supporters of Castillo Armas resented the army's action in forcing the President to disband the rebel army which overthrew the pro-Communist regime of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

The spokesman added that the Communists apparently had nothing to do with the outbreak of fighting.

Hurried Meeting

The junta ordered a 9 p.m. curfew Monday night and said military patrols would take "drastic measures" against any violators.

The disarmed "liberation" troops are scheduled to be returned to their homes Tuesday.

The cease-fire was arranged in hurried negotiations between leaders of the attacking army units and the junta. Roman Catholic Archbishop Mariano Rosell Arellano headed the negotiations, in which U.S. Ambassador John E. Peurifoy participated.

Prospect Slight For More Rain

Mostly fair weather was expected in Nebraska Tuesday with high temperatures ranging around 80 in the northeast and in the 90s in the southwest.

After a week end of rain for much of the state, the prospect for more of the same was slight.

The forecaster predicted widely scattered thundershowers in the afternoon or evening on Wednesday.

With temperatures happily remaining well removed from the century mark, the weather man said that it will be somewhat cooler in the north west and north central areas Wednesday.

A wandering black cloud added .06 of an inch of moisture to Lincoln's well dampened lawns Monday afternoon but clear skies held sway by early evening.

WITH THE CANDIDATES:

Government Should Keep Its Hands Off Business—Benesch

Government should let business alone, and not interfere with American enterprise except for its protection, Joseph V. Benesch, Democratic candidate for long-term U. S. senator said.

"A business man is entitled to the protection of his government, not to its dictation," Benesch said in a statement.

"It is enough for him to be required to pay high taxes. Business must be encouraged so that it can make profits, or the high taxes will not be forthcoming."

Insurance Companies Cited Benesch said that insurance companies "represent a stinging example of what American genius can accomplish."

Stating that government should let insurance companies alone, the candidate said that as a matter of fact, the government is "in the greatest insurance enterprise of all in its social security program."

"Social security income," Benesch said, "should be earmarked for the workers' benefit and should not go into the Treasury for general purposes. No funds procured in this way from the workers and their employers should be included in useless government spending and give-away programs to alien nations."

Ike Foreign Policy Lauded By Crosby

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP)—President Eisenhower's foreign policy "is showing the firmness and patience that was lacking for so many years," Gov. Crosby said Monday.

The President has not wavered in his resistance to any ideas of admitting Red China to the United Nations," the governor noted in remarks prepared for a Kiwanis Club meeting here.

"This is right, and we must continue to use every opportunity to oppose the admission of Red China, who is an open aggressor against freedom."

"However, if against our opposition Red China is admitted to the United Nations, then it does not follow, as Senator Knowland suggested, that we should withdraw from the United Nations. We must follow the course of action which will provide the most effective resistance against Communism."

Gov. Crosby seeks the Republican senatorial nomination in the Aug. 10 primary.

NELSON, Neb. (AP)—Gov. Robert Crosby Monday night praised President Eisenhower for "quickly ending the so-called police action in Korea, where others before him had forewarned victory." He termed the Korean affair "a dismal misadventure."

The remarks were prepared for ceremonies welcoming home the Korean Veterans of Nuclolls

County, a feature of the annual county fair.

Gov. Crosby, also expressed appreciation for President Eisenhower's "keeping us out of the Indo-China war."

Candidate Should 'Lead'—Wagener

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—Republican gubernatorial candidate Frederick H. Wagener said Monday that the Republican party should choose a gubernatorial candidate nominee to lead the party instead of a candidate that must be carried and defended.

Wagener declared that a strong state ticket would be helpful to the national ticket and the Eisenhower administration.

Wagener spoke at a luncheon at the Yancey Hotel.

The luncheon was part of a caravan which also visited Seward.

Non-Partisan Post Hopefuls To Speak

Non-partisan candidates for the Board of Regents, State Board of Education and the Unicameral will speak at an open meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the YWCA.

A question-and-answer session will be held after candidates make brief statements. Mrs. O. L. Webb, YW president, will preside.

Rail Post For Six-Year Term

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL OMAHA—F. V. Robinson, Ashland farmer and attorney and Democratic candidate for the state railway commission, Monday night pointed out that the long-term Senator and the state railway commissioner are the only public officials that will be selected on a political ballot for six year terms.

He added: "It is, therefore of the utmost importance, especially with respect to these two officers who have so much to do with everyday lives of all of us, that voters everywhere inform themselves fully of the qualifications of the various candidates, and what they stand for, so that they may choose wisely between them."

Robinson spoke before a ninth ward meeting in Elmwood Park.

It is a long way from mom's "Kasseler rippchen" in Detmold, Germany, but 17-year-old foreign exchange student "Dieter" Freese will have a good home away from home at the C. M. Pierson residence at 2836 Cedar.

The German youth arrived in Lincoln Monday night to attend Lincoln High School for a year under the American Field Service scholarship program.

"Dieter" plans to do the same things here that he has been doing in Germany—that is swim, take out girls, and study hard.

OMAHA (AP)—Republican long term Senate candidate David Martin told a meeting here Monday night "if I go to the Senate my vote will be a Nebraska vote to end economic aid to Europe or anywhere else."

Martin continued "I believe it is time we stop playing Santa Claus to the rest of the world. We have most certainly been shown that we can't win foreign friendship with American dollars so why should we lose both our dollars and our friends?"

Martin also pledged himself against universal military training and peace time conscription.

Randolph By-Pass Advanced

$61,500 Price Tag Gets Council OK

Plans, specifications and a $61,500 estimate have been approved by the City Council for the construction of the new Randolph by-pass.

The joint Board of Education and city project will run southeast from 21st and G in a semi-circle and back up to 25th and Randolph. In its initial stage, however, the by-pass will be terminated at 24th with a black mat surfacing running it up to Randolph.

The section of the by-pass from 24th to 25th will be constructed later as part of the $400,000 diagonal. This part of the southeast diagonal will run from 21st and K to 27th and D.

Consolidate

Construction of the by-pass will consolidate Board of Education property and permit construction of the new Lincoln High School activities building adjacent to the present school. The Board, in turn, has given the city some of the property it needs for the diagonal right-of-way.

The Council also approved an $8,300 estimate for the re-surfacing of A from 17th to 20th and a $2,100 estimate for the same job on 17th from South to Lake.

Plans, specifications and estimates totaling $38,900 were approved for construction of nine improvement districts, including three sewer, two water and four paving.

The Council approved two bids by George Vlasnik, for one a sewer district from Holdrege to Orchard between 52nd and 53rd and Orchard to X between 52nd and 55th for $8,188 and for one water district from Holdrege to X between 52nd and 53rd for $13,989.

Complaints Cause Waterfall Shutoff

While possibly not justified, criticism of the waterfall in the Rock garden in Antelope Park has resulted in the shutting off of the fall.

Complaints have been made against the fall, said Park Superintendent James Ager, because of what seemed to be a waste of water. Actually, he said, the same water was used over and over again with a recirculating process.

The fall required only from 30 to 50 gallons of new water per month, he said. This due to evaporation only. The park department is following other water use restrictions as to sprinkling.

Service Restored

NEW YORK (INS)—The Voice of America announced that its direct shortwave service to India and Pakistan has been restored after a lapse of more than a year.

Certificates Given To 11 New CPAs

Certificates have been given 11 persons who successfully passed the state examinations for certified public accountants, State Auditor Ray Johnson announced Monday.

Eldon L. Schafer and Keith E. Moseman were the successful Lincoln applicants. George R. Sommermeyer of Fremont and Robert B. Johnson, Council Bluffs, Ia., also passed.

Balance of the certificates went to Omaha resident, Dean L. Busching, Gilbert B. Basnik, Fran W. Scholtes, Edmund G. Jurek, Hazel E. Haining, John R. Marks Jr., and Lumir J. Bos.

Council Okays $27,000 Water Meter Price

A $27,000 estimate has been approved by the City Council for the taking of bids on the purchase of 1,085 water meters.

The water meter issue has been one of debate among the Council for some time with Councilman Pat Ash pushing for the bid system over purchases under $500 on the open market. Water Department Business Manager John W. Kruse has argued that better meter prices have been possible with open market purchases.

When bidding their products in, he has said, meter companies will not quote a price that may be below what they are selling a meter in some other town.

Ash had contended that purchases in larger lots would make up for any loss that might be experienced in any such manner and that companies would bid to get the business.

The city charter forbids purchases on the open market in excess of $500 so the water department has practiced a policy of buying some $495 worth of meters one day and another $495 worth the next day.

Guard Unit Gets Settled In Encampment

CAMP RILEY, Minn. (AP)—Officers and men of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 34th Infantry Division settled down Monday for their biggest post-war encampment and for many a veteran it was something of a homecoming.

Iowa units trained here before World War II and Minnesota's guard, not now included in the 34th, was part of the famed Red Bull Division during the war.

About half of the men attending the encampment reached camp Sunday and the remainder arrived by troop train and convoy Monday.

The training program for the two-weeks period began on schedule, even before arrivals were complete, with preliminary marksmanship tests on all ranges.

Ike Signs New Housing Bill, Predicts Boost In Standards

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday signed a housing bill which he said will mean that "millions of our families with modest incomes will be able, for the first time, to buy new or used homes."

"Families will be helped to enlarge or modernize their present homes," he added in a signing ceremony at the White House.

"It will raise the housing standards of our people, help our communities get rid of slums and improve their older neighborhoods and strengthen our mortgage credit system."

As much as Eisenhower liked the new law, it fell short of his request to Congress for 140,000 new low-rent public housing units, to be subsidized by the government, during the next four years.

Congress voted to authorize 35,000 public units during the fiscal year which started July 1, and these will be permitted only for families displaced by slum clearance projects. It provided for none in the years beyond.

Here are some examples of how much easier it will be to buy an FHA-approved home under the new law with its lower down payments—figures reflecting FHA appraisal, former down payment, and present down payment on old and new houses, in that order: $12,000, $2,400, $1,650, $1,200.

Highway Messages

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Roadside signs in series have been planted along the 180 miles of U.S. 1 in North Carolina by the State Highway Commission. Motorists on the north-south route read 190 messages like: "If you are over 55, you're lucky to be alive." "It's a short hill; don't be impatient." "Safe speed 55; social security 65." "The late Ben Smith tried to pass here."

Loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration could run as long as 30 years.

The new law allows builders of big rental projects who use FHA loans to include only a "reasonable" profit as part of their legitimate costs. Those costs would have to be certified to the government after a project was completed.

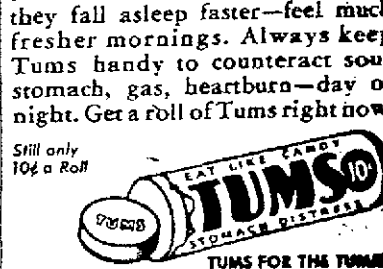

Following the signing of the bill, Eisenhower looked on as Norman P. Mason was sworn in as commissioner of the FHA. He has been acting commissioner.

WITH THE CANDIDATES:

Government Should Keep Its Hands Off Business—Benesch

Government should let business alone, and not interfere with American enterprise except for its protection, Joseph V. Benesch, Democratic candidate for long-term U. S. senator said.

"A business man is entitled to the protection of his government, not to its dictation," Benesch said in a statement.

"It is enough for him to be required to pay high taxes. Business must be encouraged so that it can make profits, or the high taxes will not be forthcoming."

Insurance Companies Cited
Benesch said that insurance companies "represent a stirring example of what American genius can accomplish."

Stating that government should let insurance companies alone, the candidate said that as a matter of fact, the government is "in the greatest insurance enterprise of all in its social security program."

"Social security income," Benesch said, "should be earmarked for the workers' benefit and should not go into the Treasury for general purposes. No funds procured in this way from the workers and their employers should be included in 'useless government spending and give-away programs to alien nations.'"

Ike Foreign Policy Lauded By Crosby

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP)—President Eisenhower's foreign policy "is showing the firmness and patience that was lacking for so many years," Gov. Crosby said Monday.

The President has not wavered in his resistance to any ideas of admitting Red China to the United Nations," the governor noted in remarks prepared for a Kiwanis Club meeting here.

"This is right, and we must continue to use every opportunity to oppose the admission of Red China, who is an open aggressor against freedom."

"However, if against our opposition Red China is admitted to the United Nations, then it does not follow, as Senator Knowland suggested, that we should withdraw from the United Nations. We must follow the course of action which will provide the most effective resistance against Communism."

Gov. Crosby seeks the Republican senatorial nomination in the Aug. 10 primary.

NELSON, Neb. (AP)—Gov. Robert Crosby Monday night praised President Eisenhower for "quickly ending the so-called police action in Korea, where others before him had forewarned victory." He termed the Korean affair "a dismal misadventure."

The remarks were prepared for ceremonies welcoming home the Korean Veterans of Nuckolls

County, a feature of the annual county fair.

Gov. Crosby, also expressed appreciation for President Eisenhower's "keeping us out of the Indo-China war."

Candidate Should 'Lead'—Wagener

Lincoln Star Special
GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—Republican gubernatorial candidate Frederick H. Wagener said Monday that the Republican party should choose a gubernatorial candidate nominee to lead the party instead of a candidate that must be carried and defended.

Wagener declared that a strong state ticket would be helpful to the national ticket and the Eisenhower administration.

Wagener spoke at a luncheon at the Yancey Hotel.

The luncheon was part of a caravan which also visited Seward.

Non-Partisan Post Hopefuls To Speak

Non-partisan candidates for the Board of Regents, State Board of Education and the Unicameral will speak at an open meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the YWCA.

A question-and-answer session will be held after candidates make brief statements. Mrs. O. L. Webb, YW president, will preside.

Rail Post For Six-Year Term

Lincoln Star Special
OMAHA—F. V. Robinson, Ashland farmer and attorney and Democratic candidate for the state railway commission, Monday night pointed out that the long-term Senator and the state railway commissioner are the only public officials that will be selected on a political ballot for six year terms.

He added: "It is, therefore of the utmost importance, especially with respect to these two officers who have so much to do with everyday lives of all of us, that voters everywhere inform themselves fully of the qualifications of the various candidates, and what they stand for, so that they may choose wisely between them."

Robinson spoke before a ninth ward meeting in Elmwood Park.

German Exchange Student Arrives Here

"Dieter" Freese, 17, of Detmold, Germany, arrived in Lincoln Monday night to spend the next school year at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pierson of 2836 Cedar. The German youth will attend Lincoln High School as a senior. (Star Photo.)

German Exchange Student Arrives For One Year As LHS Student

It is a long way from mom's "kasseler rippstee" in Detmold, Germany, but 17-year-old foreign exchange student "Dieter" Freese will have a good home away from home at the C. M. Pierson residence at 2836 Cedar.

The German youth arrived in Lincoln Monday night to attend Lincoln High School for a year under the American Field Service scholarship program.

"Dieter" plans to do the same things here that he has been doing in Germany—that is swim, take out girls, and study hard.

Study America
While in the United States, the temporary resident will take all the American literature and American history that the school will allow.

But his ambition is to be an insurance mathematician which probably comes from the fact that his father is associated with a fire insurance company in Germany. German boys his age, "Dieter" said like sports and special hobbies such as electrical work. Gym-

Omaha Monday morning. The nonpartisan group consists of backers of James F. Green, Democratic candidate for the four-year Senate term.

Chairman Lyman Stuckey said the group's membership is one-fourth to one-third Republican.

Martin Against Economic Aid

OMAHA (AP)—Republican long term Senate candidate David Martin told a meeting here Monday night "if I go to the Senate my vote will be a Nebraska vote to end economic aid to Europe or anywhere else."

Martin continued "I believe it is time we stop playing Santa Claus to the rest of the world. We have most certainly been shown that we can't win foreign friendship with American dollars so why should we lose both our dollars and our friends?"

Martin also pledged himself against universal military training and peace time conscription.

Randolph By-Pass Advanced

$61,500 Price Tag Gets Council OK

Plans, specifications and a $61,500 estimate have been approved by the City Council for the construction of the new Randolph by-pass.

The joint Board of Education and city project will run south-east from 21st and G in a semi-circle and back up to 25th and Randolph. In its initial stage, however, the by-pass will be terminated at 24th with a black mat surfacing running it up to Randolph.

The section of the by-pass from 24th to 25th will be constructed later as part of the $400,000 diagonal. This part of the southeast diagonal will run from 21st and K to 27th and D.

Consolidate
Construction of the by-pass will consolidate Board of Education property and permit construction of the new Lincoln High School activities building adjacent to the present school. The Board, in turn, has given the city some of the property it needs for the diagonal right-of-way.

The Council also approved an $8,300 estimate for the re-surfacing of A from 17th to 20th and a $2,100 estimate for the same job on 17th from South to Lake.

Plans, specifications and estimates totaling $38,900 were approved for construction of nine improvement districts, including three sewer, two water and four paving.

The Council approved two bids by George Vlasnik, for one a sewer district from Holdrege to Orchard between 52nd and 53rd and Orchard to X between 52nd and 55th for $8,188 and for one water district from Holdrege to X between 52nd and 53rd for $13,989.

Complaints Cause Waterfall Shutoff

While possibly not justified, criticism of the waterfall in the Rock garden in Antelope Park has resulted in the shutting off of the fall.

Complaints have been made against the fall, said Park Superintendent James Ager, because of what seemed to be a waste of water. Actually, he said, the same water was used over and over again with a recirculating process.

The fall required only from 30 to 50 gallons of new water per month, he said, this due to evaporation only. The park department is following other water use restrictions as to sprinkling.

Service Restored

NEW YORK (INS)—The Voice of America announced that its direct shortwave service to India and Pakistan has been restored after a lapse of more than a year.

Certificates Given To 11 New CPAs

Certificates have been given 11 persons who successfully passed the state examinations for certified public accountants, State Auditor Ray Johnson announced Monday.

Eldon L. Schafer and Keith E. Moseman were the successful Lincoln applicants. George R. Sommermeyer of Fremont and Robert B. Johnson, Council Bluffs, Ia., also passed.

Balance of the certificates went to Omaha resident, Dean L. Busching, Gilbert B. Basnik, Fran W. Scholtes, Edmund G. Jurek, Hazel E. Haining, John R. Marks Jr., and Lumir J. Bos.

Council Okays $27,000 Water Meter Price

A $27,000 estimate has been approved by the City Council for the taking of bids on the purchase of 1,085 water meters.

The water meter issue has been one of debate among the Council for some time with Councilman Pat Ash pushing for the bid system over purchases under $500 on the open market. Water Department Business Manager John W. Kruse has argued that better meter prices have been possible with open market purchases.

When bidding their products in, he has said, meter companies will not quote a price that may be below what they are selling a meter in some other town.

Ash had contended that purchases in larger lots would make up for any loss that might be experienced in any such manner and that companies would bid to get the business.

The city charter forbids purchases on the open market in excess of $500 so the water department has practiced a policy of buying some $495 worth of meters one day and another $495 worth the next day.

Guard Unit Gets Settled In Encampment

CAMP RILEY, Minn. (AP)—Officers and men of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 34th Infantry Division settled down Monday for their biggest post-war encampment and for many a veteran it was something of a homecoming.

Iowa units trained here before World War II and Minnesota's guard, not now included in the 34th, was part of the famed Red Bull Division during the war.

About half of the men attending the encampment reached camp Sunday and the remainder arrived by troop train and convey Monday.

The training program for the two-weeks period began on schedule, even before arrivals were complete, with preliminary marksmanship tests on all ranges.

Ike Signs New Housing Bill, Predicts Boost In Standards

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday signed a housing bill which he said will mean that "millions of our families with modest incomes will be able, for the first time, to buy new or used homes."

"Families will be helped to enlarge or modernize their present homes," he added in a signing ceremony at the White House.

"It will raise the housing standards of our people, help our communities get rid of slums and improve their older neighborhoods and strengthen our mortgage credit system."

As much as Eisenhower liked the new law, it fell short of his request to Congress for 140,000 new low-rent public housing units, to be subsidized by the government, during the next four years.

Congress voted to authorize 35,000 public units during the fiscal year which started July 1, and these will be permitted only for families displaced by slum clearance projects. It provided for none in the years beyond.

Here are some examples of how much easier it will be to buy an FHA-approved home under the new law with its lower down payments—figures reflecting FHA appraisal, former down payment, and present down payment on old and new houses, in that order: $12,000, $2,400, $1,650, $1,200;

Highway Messages

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Roadside signs in series have been planted along the 180 miles of U. S. 1 in North Carolina by the State Highway Commission. Motorists on the north-south route read 190 messages like: "If you are over 35, you're lucky to be alive." "It's a short hill; don't be impatient." "Safe speed 55; social security 65." "The late Ben Smith tried to pass here."

Council Approves Attorney's Report

The City Council has approved the report of City Attorney John H. Comstock that the city has no authority to re-assess levies made against property owners in Water District 329, Saylor, 34th to 56th and 56th, South to Saylor.

Eight property owners in the district had asked for a re-assessment. Comstock stated that the charter provisions that would permit the re-assessment are not present in this case.

Milk Price Is Increased 1c A Quart

Lincoln's dairy processing plants raised the price of milk one cent a quart Monday.

The price for a quart of milk was raised to 21 cents in retail stores, 22 cents for delivery, 23 cents for milk with higher than average butterfat content and 24 cents for delivery. Milk dealers lowered the price of milk one cent in April after the government cut the price supports on dairy products.

According to Emery Hancock, manager of the Nebraska-Iowa Milk Producers Association the price of milk to the dealers has not been raised appreciably since April.

Lawrence Liebers, of Skyline Farms, said that the April reduction was premature and that increased operating costs and paper and material costs were responsible for the increase.

John Spray, Lincoln manager of Beatrice Foods, said "The government regulates the price we pay to producers in this area, but we claim the right to price our products."

District Files Brief In Seepage Case

The Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district filed with the state supreme court Monday a brief opposing the granting of a new trial in a Keith County water seepage case.

Clarence Myers brought the suit originally, charging that wheat on state school land he leases in Keith County was hurt by seepage from the Platte Valley District's South Platte River diversion canal.

Myers asked $618.75 for damage to 12½ acres of wheat during the 1948 crop year, and $5,000 for continuing damage during the period of his lease, which expires in 1959.

Platte Valley offered to settle for $2,500 but this was rejected and the case went on trial. On Dec. 23, 1953, a jury returned a verdict for Myers in the amount of $1,100. But on Myers' motion, District Judge L. J. Nisley set aside the verdict and granted a new trial. So Platte Valley appealed to the Supreme Court.

Setting aside the verdict and granting a new trial "was an abuse of judicial discretion," the Platte Valley brief contends.

Nixon Says Red-Endangered Nations Must Have Will To Resist

VFW Charges U.S. Disregarding Veterans While Aiding Others

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention Monday night the United States can't help Communist-endangered nations unless they have a "will to resist."

"Indochina proves," the vice president said, "that where the will to resist does not exist it is not possible to save the people from coming under Communist domination."

Nixon was awarded the VFW's Bernard M. Baruch Distinguished Service Award in connection with the 55th annual encampment of the veterans organization.

The award is made by the VFW to the "distinguished individual American citizen who makes the most outstanding contribution to the American way of life, promotion of unity and world peace."

Red Promises

Nixon said the United States must offer "a positive alternative" to the "promises of communism."

Nixon emphasized the importance of spreading information on the U. S. and the American way of life throughout the world.

"We must not be ingloriously supporting the programs which will get across about the Communist world and the free world to peoples who are being subjected to a tremendous propaganda barrage by Communist leaders," he said.

"Nothing could be more penny wise and pound foolish than to refuse on grounds of 'economy' to spend adequate amounts on our information, library and exchange programs."

Nixon announced he was more than an hour late because of the press of Senate affairs. He did not specifically refer to the debate on a motion to censure Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

"Disregard"

Earlier Monday, the VFW charged the federal government with "cynical disregard for veterans and their dependents while dealing generously with foreign nations, including former enemies."

In a strongly worded "proclamation of policy, read in convention session by National Commander-in-Chief Wayne E. Richards of Arkansas City, Kas., the VFW protested "this growing indifference for the welfare of our veteran class."

The VFW attack Monday was the first public blast at the government for its veterans program, though in past years the VFW has "suggested" certain kinds of legislation and gone to bat vigorously to get more benefits for veterans, their widows and orphaned children.

Monday's attack cited the record of the past 14 years—which embraces the last four years of Franklin Roosevelt's administration, the eight years that Harry Truman served as president and the last two years under Dwight D. Eisenhower—and said that American taxpayers had given 86 billion dollars for foreign aid, while veterans expenditures have totaled 32 billions "since the birth of our republic over 175 years ago."

"We deplore in public session this willful neglect and call upon the American people to join with us in requesting a return by the national government to the sympathetic and realistic treatment of veterans and their dependents that was established with the nation's inception," the resolution stated.

Scavenger Office Recoveries Cited

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele has pointed out that much of the money appropriated to the Scavenger Tax Sale office is directly recovered by that office.

Scheele said the office's 1954-55 budget request is $21,050.

During the previous fiscal year, $2,246.73 was returned to the County Treasurer as not spent. Actual expenses were $18,798.27. The total of these two figures is a few dollars less than requested this year.

Scheele said actual expenditures of the Scavenger Tax Sale office are variable and depend a great deal upon the number of tax foreclosure cases which will be filed during the year.

The Lancaster County Board, following hearings on the following budgets, has taken the following tentative action:

On the Adult Probation Office, request reduced by $150 to $11,459.07.

On the Clerk of the District Court, no change in the $39,125 request.

On the Juvenile Probation Office, request reduced by $133 to $10,410.

On the Detention Home, no change in $7,827 request.

On the County Assessor's office, no change in $82,730 request.

On Photo Copy Office (commissioner's miscellaneous budget), request reduced by $2,940 to $13,360.

District Files Brief In Seepage Case

The Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district filed with the state supreme court Monday a brief opposing the granting of a new trial in a Keith County water seepage case.

Clarence Myers brought the suit originally, charging that wheat on state school land he leases in Keith County was hurt by seepage from the Platte Valley District's South Platte River diversion canal.

Myers asked $618.75 for damage to 12½ acres of wheat during the 1948 crop year, and $5,000 for continuing damage during the period of his lease, which expires in 1959.

Platte Valley offered to settle for $2,500 but this was rejected and the case went on trial. On Dec. 23, 1953, a jury returned a verdict for Myers in the amount of $1,100. But on Myers' motion, District Judge I. J. Nisley set aside the verdict and granted a new trial. So Platte Valley appealed to the Supreme Court.

Setting aside the verdict and granting a new trial "was an abuse of judicial discretion," the Platte Valley brief contends.

One Way Or Another

It was a rather remarkable development when 35 out of 84 Nebraska counties invited to appear before the Nebraska state equalization board and to "show cause why farm land and city real estate valuations should not be decreased" joined in a chorus of asking to be left alone.

The trouble started when a 20 per cent reduction in valuations of real estate in Omaha had brought about a cry of protest from other counties.

There isn't any question about the seriousness of Nebraska's tax problem. Home ownership, generally so desirable in the scheme of a way of life, is becoming increasingly difficult year by year as taxes mount. Farmers are feeling the pinch. Likewise it will be recognized that there has been and still is a difference in the measuring stick determining valuations both of real and personal property in different sections of Nebraska.

Yet the basic thing involved is the amount of money needed to meet the expenses of government at all levels from the state down through the lowest local political subdivision.

A decrease in assessed valuation, when it is accompanied by an increase in actual expenditures for governmental purposes, simply means an increase in values adequate to take up the decrease in the assessed values. Likewise, an increase in the assessed value, if not accompanied by an increase in the actual revenues made available to government, could not other than result in a cut of the levy.

None of current discussion deals with the one issue which Nebraska has ducked. That is a broadening of the tax base so that real estate itself bears less of the burden which it does now.

Nothing Settled

"The end result of 13 days of angry argument which split both parties down the middle, (a reference to the Senate filibuster on atomic energy) was a compromise which defers but does not settle the great underlying question of whether atomic energy, unlocked and developed by taxpayers' money, belongs properly to all the people or is a proper area for the operation of private enterprise," wrote Joseph C. Harsch in the Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. Harsch is one of the first to suggest that nothing has been settled by way of developing permanent policy. President Eisenhower in the course of that debate had his way about constructing a private power plant to produce power for TVA.

But still unsettled is the fundamental issue as to whom a great resource such as atomic energy actually belongs.

A Nebraskan, Herbert Jehle, associate professor of physics at the University of Nebraska, in Monday morning's Star contributed what to us seems a most interesting phase in the discussion of ultimate control in the field of atomic energy.

"If a realistic opportunity to bring the nuclear armaments race to a peaceful end should arise," Dr. Jehle wrote, "then the government would suddenly be reminded of having no authority over the disposal of privately owned power plants capable of output of fissionable material. Or, in the case of privately owned duo-purpose reactors, it would be reminded of commitments to purchase fissionable material. In either case, the government's hands in questions of disarmament would be tied on a long-term basis. This is not the wisest way to bring about peace."

As was pointed out, nothing of this entered into the angry 13-day discussion in the United States Senate which flamed and then faded to end up in a compromise which one of Washington's keenest newspaper observers said settled nothing. Chief issue in the approaching fall congressional elections, if the party now in power, the Republicans, can shape the issue, will be peace. Everyone is in favor of peace. Republicans have no monopoly on the desire for peace, neither do Democrats. Men and women of both parties are in favor of peace just the same as the American people are against sin.

But if a real opportunity for a durable peace and for termination of the costly armament race actually presents itself, then in recent days by reason of congressional decision we have taken a step that makes it difficult if not impossible to bargain in the field of nuclear weapons.

Those Tonsils

Mark Twain once said of the American people, "It isn't that we don't know anything, it is that we know so much that isn't so."

There was that conviction that wholesale spinach eating would make veritable Popeyes of a lot of little peace-loving children when they grew up. Then one day some white-coated research people appeared at the door of the laboratory and said it was a lot of bunk.

For years now parents have been having their children's tonsils removed as a safeguard to health. Now comes the University of Minnesota School of Public Health making dubious remarks about the practice. The school lately announced its finding in a follow-up study of 2,500 victims of polio in Minnesota's 1946 outbreak. It found that only one out of 12 who still had their tonsils developed the deadly bulbar form of polio while every one out of three who had had their tonsils out developed bulbar polio. Perhaps tonsils, even not the best ones, are better than no tonsils.

In the study of disease and the human body's behavior toward it, it is difficult to draw hard-and-quick conclusions. There is such a variety of causes and effects. It does not follow from the Minnesota study that tonsillectomies are invitations to bulbar polio. But such suspicious evidence as the study dredged up calls for full research, far enough at least to determine whether the findings were coincidental or actually related.

Unfair To Cartoonists

The schools in Cortland, N. Y., have quit sending home report cards. Instead the teachers now call on the parents and discuss little Johnny's educational progress, or vice versa. The parents probably will not object to this, but it attacks a traditional American institution and should be referred to the McCarthy subcommittee. American cartoonists for years have relied on Johnny, his report card and his devices for getting it past his parents. Cartoonists have their rights, especially in these days when new wit is so hard to come by.

Special Favor Bills Crowd Closing Days

WASHINGTON—These are the days of slap-happy legislation. Days when congressmen are bleary-eyed, lobbyists are on their toes, and when laws can be put on the statute books which only a few men want and the rest of the country doesn't even know about.

These are also days when astute Charley Halleck of Indiana, the man who's plotting Eisenhower's program through the House of Representatives, gives no advance warning when certain pet bills are coming up. He picks the time when he thinks there'll be fewest Democrats on the floor. That was why he rammed through the all-important Atomic Energy Bill on a Friday and kept the House in session until 3 a.m. Saturday. He knew the week ends are the time when the big city Democrats from New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey leave Washington.

To illustrate what the long-suffering public faces during these hectic closing days of Congress, here is some of the slap-happy legislation now either partially passed or awaiting passage:

The Rocky Mountain Trout Bill—This would require every restaurant in the U.S. to print on its menu the name of the area from which its trout comes. If the restaurateur flies in frozen trout from Denmark, he must print that on his menu. If it comes from Scotland, he must print that also. Or if it comes from Norway, he must say so. Or if his dining saloon is too small to have printed menus, he must hang a sign on the wall. He must also specify when he's offering Rocky Mountain trout.

If he doesn't do these things, he's fined $500 or can go to jail. What this means, says M. O. Ryan of the National Association of Hotels, is that: "Hotels of count would be obliged to stop serving trout. No one would risk the possibility of a year in jail because someone shipped him the wrong fish."

Reason for the bill is that the trout hatcheries of Colorado and Idaho want to sell more trout. They want to discourage imported foreign trout.

Eisenhower happens to be quite a trout man, but like's State Department is against the bill; so is his Interior Department, and his Food and Drug Administration. They have gone on record officially as opposed.

Nevertheless the bill has already passed the Senate, and may have slid quietly through the House by the time this gets into print. Why? Because Sen. Dwyer of Idaho faces a tough race for re-election, as does Congressman Budge of Idaho; also Republicans face a tough race in Colorado for Sen. Ed Johnson's vacant seat.

So because of two state elections, the restaurants of the entire U.S. may have to print new menus.

The Dinosaur Canyon Irrigation Bill—Last week, congressmen streamed onto the floor of the House to vote on a bill diverting the headwaters of the Colorado in Utah and Colorado through a proposed tunnel under a mountain range to irrigate areas of those states at a cost of up to $1,800 an acre and a total cost of $172,000,000. To get the water, it would also be necessary to inundate one of the priceless historic areas of the U.S., Dinosaur National Park, home of the prehistoric animals which once roamed the land.

As congressmen streamed in to vote, most of them didn't know what the bill was all about. But Congressman Chet Holifield and Harry Sheppard, both of California, stood at the doors, telling them to vote no.

"If you love me," entreated Holifield, "vote no."

Reason for the impassioned interest of these two Californians was because southern California gets its water from the lower Colorado River and wants no possible diversion up above.

Despite frantic efforts by the two congressmen, the vote on giving the bill a "rule," namely letting it come up for debate, was a tie—199 to 199. So as the roll was called again, Holifield and Sheppard slipped around to their friends and were able to change two votes. The bill was defeated.

Note—Republicans were anxious to pass the bill to help Congressmen Dawson of Utah and Chenoweth of Colorado who face tough election races.

Return of German Property—Also on the agenda for quick passage through Congress is the Dirksen bill which would return the giant Nazi chemical companies, seized by the United States during the war, back to the Germans. If this passes it will cost the American taxpayer up to around half a billion dollars.

One unique angle to the German property bill is that the American Legion has endorsed it—through a peculiar set of circumstances few Legionnaires know about.

German Embassy—What Congress seems about to do in the closing rush of Congress, is to pass the Dirksen bill reimbursing the big Nazi cartel owners who built up Hitler's war machine. Yet at the same time, Congress seems likely to sidetrack a bill returning the German embassy in Washington to pro-American, anti-Hitler Chancellor Adenauer.

The United States seized the German embassy during the war, a ramshackle brick building on Massachusetts Avenue, and sold it for $300,000 before it deteriorated further. After the war we returned the Japanese embassy to the Japanese, but couldn't return the German embassy because we had sold it. So now the State Department has okayed a bill to pay Adenauer the $300,000 price we got when the embassy was sold.

But unlike the Rocky Mountain trout bill which was rushed through the Senate because of an election in Idaho and Colorado; and unlike the Dirksen bill returning Nazi industrial property, which was rushed through the Senate Judiciary Committee, the German embassy bill has been stymied for three years.

Reason: No powerful lobbyists or politicians have been behind it. The story of the powerful lobby behind the return of Nazi industrial property will be told in an early column.

Peace In Our Time A Campaign Theme

WASHINGTON — It is now clear that, barring accidents, the party in power will feature during the fall campaign a boast of peace in our time. From that peace, GOP orators will argue, all blessings flow including their tax cut, budget economies and a stabilizing level of prices.

This does not mean that Communism will go unmentioned. The Communist successes will be blamed again on the Democrats and Dean Acheson. The Harry Dexter White case has been dramatized on film for home movies, for example, and Democrats hear that Attorney General Brownell has some new indictments up his sleeve for an election climax.

This shape of politics to come, with monumental anti-Communist talk undiminished but no military moves to invoke the specter of war, has been emerging gradually since last spring. Vice President Nixon's suggestion that American troops might be needed in Indo-China was the high water mark of U.S. belligerence. All has been ebbside since then.

It remained for the capital's most recent visitor, President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, to blow the whistle on the vast difference between the anti-Communist atmosphere of the nation's capital and the actual acts which the executive and legislative branches are willing to sanction.

In a New York interview Rhee said bitterly that "short-sighted United States policy" made it impossible to achieve the unification of Korea which was "essential to the future of all Asia and of the free nations. Americans have not got the common guts to face the problem," said the outspoken old man who had utilized a joint session of Congress to call for what would amount to preventive war against Red China.

Rhee thus revealed what the official communiques here wrapped up in semantics, which is that he got no encouragement for military adventures. Only a week before, a similar message started on its way to Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalist Chinese in Formosa. The American ambassador to Formosa, Karl Rankin, conferred quietly and intensely here with his superiors about what the loss of Indo-China would mean. A career diplomat, he started back to his post without fanfare, but his friends perceived that he too had failed to dent the trend.

The South Korean president is not the first foreign leader to fail to understand that what the United States will in the end do is not always to be learned from congressional headlines or their own American visitors. Hitler anticipated that the articulate isolationists, Borah, Johnson and others, would be able to keep America out of his war.

Rhee saw the pro-Asian campaign of the Republicans succeed. He also apparently believed that such friends as Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Republican Senate Leader Knowland and General Van Fleet, had aroused sentiment that his personal appearance would crystallize.

Not so. Congress gave him a personal ovation and sat on its hands when he called for war. The President rolled out the red carpet but turned away from the war drums.

Rhee put it harshly in New York with his laud about "common guts," to which he added: "The United States is so mild in its warnings to the Communists because you don't really mean them and the Communists know you don't mean them." U.S. senators, however, have gazed at Secretary of State Dulles for his inflammable phrases—"massive retaliation" and "unleashing Chang Kai-Shek"—and insisted they were meaningless.

Republican political strategists are satisfied that peace is a good issue. Postmaster General Summerfield, a former national chairman, suggests it should be the major one. Good or bad, short-sighted or wise, it will be in the campaign.

"I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams;
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams,
From my wings are shaken the dews that waken
The sweet buds every one,
When rocked to rest on their mother's breast,
As she dances about the sun,
I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under,
And then again I dissolve it in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder."
"The Cloud"—Percy Bysshe Shelley

How wonderful that August should be ushered in with a good rain and everything on Locust Lane now looks refreshed and rain-washed. The young moon today's in the movable, airy and fruitful sign, Libra. Thursday morning at 9:02 it will enter the fixed, watery and very fruitful sign, Scorpio. Friday about 10 minutes before one p.m., second (lunar) Mrs. Swingle quarter will begin and Saturday night at 9:31 August's waxing moon will enter the flexed, fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius. Next Tuesday morning about 9:18 it will enter the movable, earthy and dry sign, Capricorn. So much for the moon's signs. Use them as you choose.

We're painting our house "Bermuda Pink." The roof of the house and garage are white, just as are all rooms in Bermuda. Shutters and trim also are white, and it's mighty pretty. The houses in Bermuda are painted only in pale hues of pink, blue, yellow and green. Bermuda blues are frequently used to paint a beige or a very soft gray one, but pink is the current favorite and they are simply beautiful surrounded by turquoise waters and the heavenly blue of the sky. So come by and see "The Birds' Nest." Maybe we shall have to change our name and call it "The Pink House."

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Crawford, judges of fine glads . . .

In our picture today you'll see Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Crawford of Tulsa, Okla., against a background of cups and ribbons awarded at the Lincoln Gladiolus Society's second annual gladiolus show last week. Dr. Crawford is a fancier and grower of prize-winning glads in Oklahoma and the Middle West. Also he is an able and expert judge of the North American Gladiolus Council. This was their first visit to Lincoln and Nebraska. We hope they'll come again because well-informed judges make good shows better, and mediocre judges may ruin good shows.

During August the indispensable annuals of our gardens really come into their own and are a riot of colorful bloom—marigolds, zinnias, asters, snapdragons, etc.

Friday, August 6, the Ashland Garden Club will open a two-day show of annual flowers in the Lee Lien building. Show time from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. The theme, "Floral Carnival." Mrs. E. E. Buck is show chairman. On Saturday the show will open at 10 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

At Beatrice the garden department of the Beatrice Woman's Club will have a two-day show of "August Annuals" in the Beatrice National Bank lobby from 3 p.m. until 9 p.m., on Saturday, August 7, and from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, August 8. Mrs. John G. Bauer is show chairman.

So until another day—

Handling McCarthy

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If only the United States Senate could handle bad boy Joe, McCarthy with as much finesse and success as organized baseball handles Eddie Stanky, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, it would increase our confidence in government.

Put down another source for private enterprise.

LETA ALLEY

Loyal Support

Hebron, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Congress now approaches the end of its 83rd session, and the Republican members are coming home to campaign for re-election with the President's blessing for their loyal support of his crusade program. The full Nebraska delegation has been loyal in every respect, and now it is up to the voters to pass judgment. First on the list is the give-away of Tidelands oil to the coastal states after the Supreme Court had said three times that it belonged to all the people of the 48 states. Nebraska share of the royalties would have gone a long way to support the Nebraska schools. The Nebraska members voted "yes."

During the 1952 campaign Mr. Eisenhower pledged the Republican party to balance the budget. They repealed the excess profits tax and reduced the income tax on stock dividends, both benefiting Big Business and those in the high income brackets. And they repealed the excise tax. Now the President is asking Congress to increase the debt limit, with no reduction of income taxes for the lower income groups. Nebraska members of Congress voted "yes."

There is the atomic energy give-away and the proposal to cut purity to 75 per cent on a flexible price support—both of which Nebraska members favor. Same old story—legislate in favor of the rich corporations and prosperity will dribble down to the common people. Amen.

T. H. CARTER

Just A New Face

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Have we or have we not a Republican administration? Apparently not, as we now see it following the same "policies" as the Democratic administration. But it has put on new faces, new names, and new appearances.

For example, it has tried to please the farmers by supporting the idea of subsidies. Yet Big Business has been subsidized twice the amount by which farmers have been subsidized. They are trying to support both sides of the fence. But the net result is one grand scheme of gambling and those of us who are not subsidized are thereby cheated. We pay the bill.

The Republican administration has tried to please everybody and eventually will please almost nobody. It was thought that Eisenhower could gain us friends in Europe. Winston Churchill was here in the U.S. reportedly getting along fine, and neatly stabbed us in the back by favoring "co-existence" with Russia. Mendes-France was supposed to be a good guy to have in France; yet he concluded a cowardly peace with the Communists in Indo-China which was much like the cowardly truce treaty concerning Korea jubilantly received by our President. The new "trade, not aid" policy fell flat on its face, and the old Democratic give-away policy was resumed. Whereas the Democrats had a policy of "containment," the Republican administration has a policy of "hoping for containment"—a hope which may soon be thrown to the bow-wow as the Reds take over Southeast Asia and possibly Korea.

Eisenhower's administration has severely criticized senators and representatives who wanted a firm stand at home as well as abroad. The result is utter confusion and plenty of campaign issues for the Democrats.

However, let us keep in mind that this Republican administration is led only by a segment of the Republican party—the so-called "liberals." These "liberals" These "liberals" decry the Communist menace while actively doing little or nothing to check it. The real progressives of the Republican party are the congressmen called "conservatives" and "isolationists." They want a progressive policy in Asia; they want us to take a stand in Europe by clearly stating our plans, rather than alternately talking sweet and then tough, thereby confusing our European allies and making them distrustful and resentful.

MELVYN R. ECKLEBERRY

The Litterbugs

Pawnee City, Neb.
To the Editor of The Lincoln Star: Once again a biennial rash has broken out in full force and some of our distinguished citizens have allied themselves with that order of genus homo known as "litterbugs." Aspiring to the offices of United States

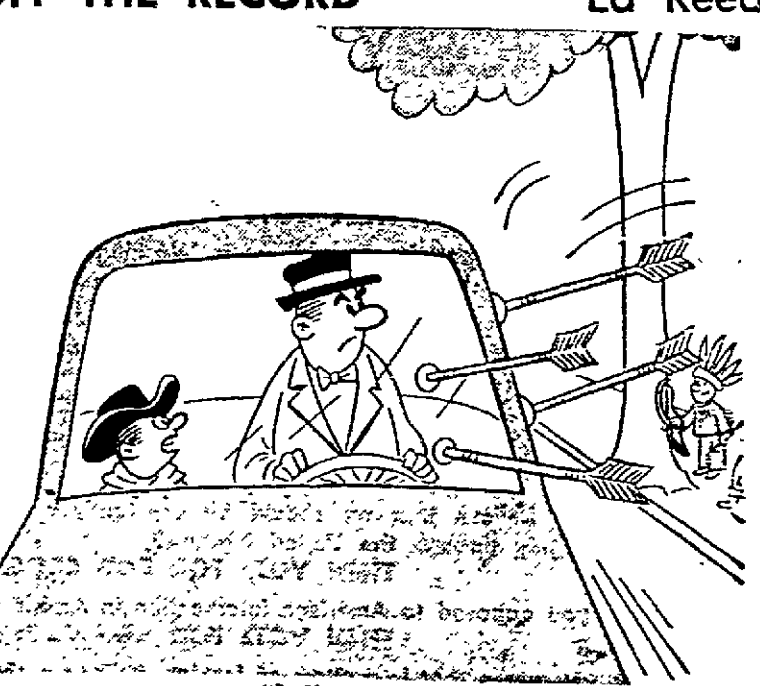

Senator (who make laws) and governor (whose duty is enforcement), they have festooned light, power and telephone poles throughout the countryside and in our towns and villages with placards bearing their likenesses and the offices to which they aspire.

Not one of them would deface his home by such a procedure, yet they have no compunction in littering their towns by tacking up their campaign material in this manner. Months after most of them have passed into political oblivion, the tattered remnants of their thoughtlessness will still be hanging in sheds from these selsame poles, and the tacks with which they are attached remain a constant menace to some poor lineman who on a dark and stormy night is forced to make a hurried climb and whose spurs may strike one of these tacks causing a terrible fall with possible serious injuries.

The use of these nice clean poles by politicians reminds one of the chap who came to town and was so pleased to find a vacant parking place—next to a fire hydrant! He wondered why no one had thought to park there before! Consistency is a jewel, but her name is not politics! FRED H. BARCLAY

One Way Or Another

It was a rather remarkable development when 35 out of 84 Nebraska counties invited to appear before the Nebraska state equalization board and to "show cause why farm land and city real estate valuations should not be decreased" joined in a chorus of asking to be left alone.

The trouble started when a 20 per cent reduction in valuations of real estate in Omaha had brought about a cry of protest from other counties.

There isn't any question about the seriousness of Nebraska's tax problem. Home ownership, generally so desirable in the scheme of a way of life, is becoming increasingly difficult year by year as taxes mount. Farmers are feeling the pinch. Likewise it will be recognized that there has been and still is a difference in the measuring stick determining valuations both of real and personal property in different sections of Nebraska.

Yet the basic thing involved is the amount of money needed to meet the expenses of government at all levels from the state down through the lowest local political subdivision.

A decrease in assessed valuation, when it is accompanied by an increase in actual expenditures for governmental purposes, simply means an increase in values adequate to take up the decrease in the assessed values. Likewise, an increase in the assessed value, if not accompanied by an increase in the actual revenues made available to government, could not other than result in a cut of the levy.

None of current discussion deals with the one issue which Nebraska has ducked. That is a broadening of the tax base so that real estate itself bears less of the burden which it does now.

Nothing Settled

"The end result of 13 days of angry argument which split both parties down the middle, (a reference to the Senate filibuster on atomic energy) was a compromise which defers but does not settle the great underlying question of whether atomic energy, unlocked and developed by taxpayers' money, belongs properly to all the people or is a proper area for the operation of private enterprise," wrote Joseph C. Harsch in the Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. Harsch is one of the first to suggest that nothing has been settled by way of developing permanent policy. President Eisenhower in the course of that debate had his way about constructing a private power plant to produce power for TVA.

But still unsettled is the fundamental issue as to whom a great resource such as atomic energy actually belongs.

A Nebraskan, Herbert Jehle, associate professor of physics at the University of Nebraska, in Monday morning's Star contributed what to us seems a most interesting phase in the discussion of ultimate control in the field of atomic energy.

"If a realistic opportunity to bring the nuclear armaments race to a peaceful end should arise," Dr. Jehle wrote, "then the government would suddenly be reminded of having no authority over the disposal of privately owned power plants capable of output of fissionable material. Or, in the case of privately owned dual-purpose reactors, it would be reminded of commitments to purchase fissionable material. In either case, the government's hands in questions of disarmament would be tied on a long-term basis. This is not the wisest way to bring about peace."

As was pointed out, nothing of this entered into the angry 13-day discussion in the United States Senate which flamed and then faded to end up in a compromise which one of Washington's keenest newspaper observers said settled nothing. Chief issue in the approaching fall congressional elections, if the party now in power, the Republicans, can shape the issue, will be peace. Everyone is in favor of peace. Republicans have no monopoly on the desire for peace, neither do Democrats. Men and women of both parties are in favor of peace just the same as the American people are against sin.

But if a real opportunity for a durable peace and for termination of the costly armament race actually presents itself, then in recent days by reason of congressional decision we have taken a step that makes it difficult if not impossible to bargain in the field of nuclear weapons.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It may or may not be good politics for the people of any state to permit themselves to be labeled by either of the two major political parties as "in the bag." Certainly one should have a better reason for being a Republican or a Democrat than that ahead of him or her, the father was a Republican or a Democrat. We think the lines have been sufficiently etched in the last year and a half to permit any individual to make a choice, a logical choice based upon the individual view of national good health and progress.

William S. White, writing in the current Harper's Magazine on what he calls the most important senatorial campaign in 22 years, has this to say which should be of interest to Nebraskans: "... Worse than that (more Democratic than Republican seats up for contest) from the Democratic viewpoint, at least six of the Republican seats involved—in Nebraska, New Hampshire, South Dakota, Kansas, and Maine (in Nebraska two seats are at stake)—will remain Republican through every storm, assuming that all past experience means anything at all." In short, an astute Washington observer widely known by newspaper men takes Nebraska for granted. The tradition created by the late George W. Norris; the success of the late Gilbert M. Hitchcock; yes, the career of Sen. R. B. Howell, certainly no idol of the Republican machine in Nebraska, mean nothing to Mr. White. Them days, he concludes, are gone forever, and all that remains is a politically meek, subservient Nebraska which regardless of its own interest and the effect of national policy upon its own economy, dutifully marches to the polls and slaps it down for the Grand Old Party. Keith Neville, the Democratic candidate for one of the two Senate seats, and Jimmy Green, the Democratic choice for the other, deserve a little better treatment than this. Keith Neville knows Nebraska out of long experience, and Jimmy Green is a capable young man.

There are very few men in Nebraska better qualified to discuss public power and its importance to this state than Keith Neville. His education came about the right way. He was one of the directors of the original Sutherland project, now a part of the Nebraska Public Power System. He knows the full meaning and the ultimate consequences of those policies now being shaped in Washington.

Since adoption of REA, one of the late George Norris' contributions to rural America, more than 90 per cent of the farm homes of this state have become electrified. That is one of the three great changes in the enrichment of American rural life that has taken place in the last two decades. No one knows it better than the farm wife herself. It has meant her emancipation from the grinding drudgery of a farm home without the greatest of many great modern developments. The rural electrification districts of this state have borrowed $90 million to bring electricity to these farm homes. It must be repaid. Up until recently there has been no cloud in the sky to cast a shadow upon the orderly retirement of that debt. We can talk loosely about a decline in farm income, a little less than it was a year ago perhaps, or more than is generally recognized by the public, but this is continuing decline in farm incomes could mean to the Nebraska farm wife and to the entire family enjoying the comforts of electricity in the home. It is not unusual for the bill for electricity to run from $100 to $150 a year—to aggregate $10 a month. And when the income drops off, or in the case of drought, takes a nosedive, the electric bill for that farm home becomes a torment.

What Nebraska needs most in its congressional representation are men willing to take the time and devote the energy to studying what contributes to the building of this state.

How wonderful that August should be ushered in with a good rain and everything on Locust Lane now looks refreshed and rain-washed. The young moon today's in the movable, airy and fruitful sign, Libra. Thursday morning at 9:02 it will enter the fixed, watery and very fruitful sign, Scorpio. Friday about 10 minutes before one p.m., second (lunar)

Mrs. Swingle quarter will begin and Saturday night at 9:31 August's waxing moon will enter the fiery, fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius. Next Tuesday morning about 8:18 it will enter the movable, earthy and dry sign, Capricorn. So much for the moon's signs. Use them as you choose.

We're painting our house "Bermuda Blue." The roof of the house and garage are white, just as are all roofs in Bermuda. Shutters and trim also are white, and it's mighty pretty. The houses in Bermuda are painted only in pale hues of pink, blue, yellow and green—Bermuda pastels. Infrequently you'll see a beige or a very soft gray one, but pink is the current favorite and they are simply beautiful surrounded by turquoise waters and the heavenly blue of the sky. So come by and see "The Birds' Nest." Maybe we shall have to change our name and call it "The Pink House."

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Crawford, judges of fine glads...

In our picture today you'll see Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Crawford of Tulsa, Okla., against a background of cups and ribbons awarded at the Lincoln Gladiolus Society's second annual gladiolus show last week. Dr. Crawford is a fancier and grower of prize-winning glads in Oklahoma and the Middle West. Also he is an able and expert judge of the North American Gladiolus Council. This was their first visit to Lincoln and Nebraska. We hope they'll come again because well-informed judges make good shows better and mediocre judges may ruin good shows.

During August the indispensable annuals of our gardens really come into their own and are a riot of colorful bloom—marigolds, zinnias, asters, snapdragons, etc.

Friday, August 6, the Ashland Garden Club will open a two-day show of annual flowers in the Lee Lien building. Show time from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. The theme, "Floral Carnival." Mrs. E. E. Buck is show chairman. On Saturday the show will open at 10 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

At Beatrice the garden department of the Beatrice Woman's Club will have a two-day show of "August Annuals" in the Beatrice National Bank lobby from 3 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Saturday, August 7, and from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, August 8. Mrs. John G. Bauer is show chairman.

So until another day—

Handling McCarthy

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If only the United States Senate could handle bad boy Joe McCarthy with as much finesse and success as organized baseball handled Eddie Stanky, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, it would increase our confidence in government.

Put down another source for private enterprise.

LETA ALLEY

Loyal Support

Hebron, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Congress now approaches the end of its 83rd session, and the Republican members are coming home to campaign for re-election with the President's blessing for their loyal support of his crusade program. The full Nebraska delegation has been loyal in every respect, and now it is up to the voters to pass judgment. First on the list is the give-away of Tidelands oil to the coastal states after the Supreme Court had said three times that it belonged to all the people of the 48 states. Nebraska share of the royalties would have gone a long way to support the Nebraska schools. The Nebraska members voted "yes."

During the 1952 campaign Mr. Eisenhower pledged the Republican party to balance the budget. They repealed the excess profits tax and reduced the income tax on stock dividends, both benefiting Big Business and those in the high income brackets. And they repealed the excise tax. Now the President is asking Congress to increase the debt limit, with no reduction of income taxes for the lower income groups. Nebraska members of Congress voted "yes."

There is the atomic energy give-away and the proposal to cut parity to 75 per cent on a flexible price support—both of which Nebraska members favor. Same old story—legislation in favor of the rich corporations and prosperity will dribble down to the common people. Amen.

H. CARTER

Just A New Face

Lincoln, Neb.

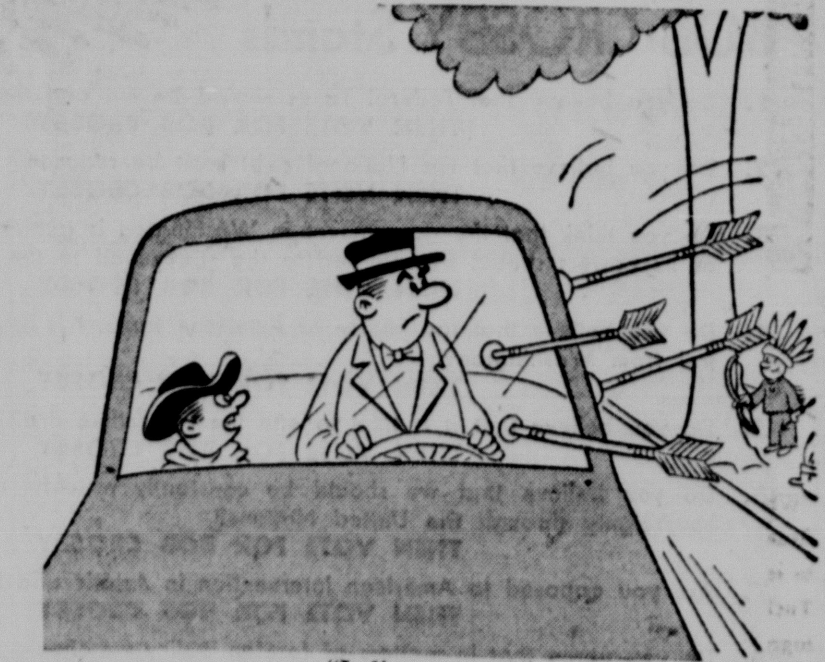

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Have we or have we not a Republican administration? Apparently not, as we now see it following the same "policies" as the Democratic administration. But it has put on new faces, new names, and new appearances.

For example, it has tried to please the farmers by supporting the idea of subsidies. Yet Big Business has been subsidized twice the amount by which farmers have been subsidized. They are trying to support both sides of the fence! But the net result is one grand scheme of gambling and those of us who are not subsidized are thereby cheated. We pay the bill.

The Republican administration has tried to please everybody and eventually will please almost nobody. It was thought that Eisenhower could gain us friends in Europe. Winston Churchill was here in the U.S. reportedly getting along fine, and neatly stabbed us in the back by favoring "co-existence" with Russia. Mendes-France was supposed to be a good guy to have in France; yet he concluded a cowardly peace with the Communists in Indo-China which was much like the cowardly truce treaty concerning Korea jublyantly received by our President. The new "trade, not aid" policy fell flat on its face, and the old Democratic give-away policy was resumed.

Whereas the Democrats had a policy of "containment," the Republican administration has a policy of "hoping for containment"—a hope which may soon be thrown to the bow-wow as the Reds take over Southwest Asia and possibly Korea.

Those Tonsils

Mark Twain once said of the American people, "It isn't that we don't know anything, it is that we know so much that isn't so."

There was that conviction that wholesale spinach eating would make veritable Popes of a lot of little peace-loving children when they grew up. Then one day some white-coated research people appeared at the door of the laboratory and said it was a lot of bunk.

For years now parents have been having their children's tonsils removed as a safeguard to health. Now comes the University of Minnesota School of Public Health making dubious remarks about the practice. The school lately announced its finding in a follow-up study of 2,500 victims of polio in Minnesota's 1946 outbreak. It found that only one out of 12 who still had their tonsils developed the deadly bulbar form of polio while every one out of three who had had their tonsils out developed bulbar polio. Perhaps tonsils, even not the best ones, are better than no tonsils.

In the study of disease and the human body's behavior toward it, it is difficult to draw hard-and-quick conclusions. There is such a variety of causes and effects. It does not follow from the Minnesota study that tonsillectomies are invitations to bulbar polio. But such suspicious evidence as the study dredged up calls for full research, far enough at least to determine whether the findings were coincidental or actually related.

Unfair To Cartoonists

The schools in Cortland, N. Y., have quit sending home report cards. Instead the teachers now call on the parents and discuss little Johnny's educational progress, or vice versa. The parents probably will not object to this, but it attacks a traditional American institution and should be referred to the McCarthy subcommittee. American cartoonists for years have relied on Johnny, his report card and his devices for getting it past his parents. Cartoonists have their rights, especially in these days when new wit is so hard to come by.

Douglas, Lancaster Hold Key To Political Victory

By The Associated Press
Political punsters, come close to election time, revive that old one about there being more candidates than people in Nebraska's two largest cities, Omaha and Lincoln.
And there's a good reason for the influx of candidates striving for that last minute impression with voters through rallies, dinners, luncheons and personal appeals via the air lanes and printed page.
It's population, naturally.
40.9 Pct of Demo Vote
For example in the 1952 primary, about 29.1 per cent of the total Republican votes cast were in Douglas County (Omaha) and Lancaster County (Lincoln). And of the total Democratic vote 40.9 per cent came from the two counties. Douglas County election commissioner Herman Kupfinger predicts a light vote of 40,000 to 50,000 from the county's 115,000 eligible voters. Chief Deputy Commissioner Pat Boyles in Lincoln estimates there will be about 51,000 eligibles compared to 47,849 for the 1952 primary.
Figures for 1950 were the same as the 1952 trend with 29.47 per cent of the Republican ballots recorded in the two counties and 33.0 per cent of the Democratic ballots.
The 1948 tabulation shows 44.85 per cent of those voting Democratic came from the two counties and 27.8 per cent of the Republicans.
GOP Picture Not So Clear
Barring unusual circumstances, this would indicate that any Democrat with a corner on the Omaha Lincoln market and a fair outstate following could probably catch the nomination.
The Republican picture isn't quite as clear cut, but in fields with more than two or three candidates, the solid "big city" vote wrapped up could mean the key to a November appearance on the ballot.

Grand Island Woman Tries Mrs. Tucker's Shortening with Excellent Results

"When I first tried Mrs. Tucker's Shortening in a Banana Cake," says Mrs. Ernest Buchfinck, 716 W. 9th, Grand Island, Neb. "I was very interested in seeing how it would turn out. It was a pleasure to see how quickly Mrs. Tucker's ALL-Vegetable Shortening creamed and mixed with the other ingredients, and when the cake was done, it was as fine as anybody could wish. Tender, and moist, and the grain was just right!"

Here's Mrs. Tucker's amazing triple guarantee—if you don't say:
"(1) Mrs. Tucker's makes any bread or cake richer, more moist and tender
... (2) any pastry lighter and flakier ... (3) any fried foods tastier and more digestible," send the recipe to Mrs. Tucker, telling what you don't like about the results, and she will pay you for all the ingredients used PLUS a dollar for your time.

Banana Cake

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| Cream together until light and fluffy                      | 1/2 cup MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING       |
| Add, one at a time, beating one minute after each addition | 1 cup sugar                            |
| Add  | 2 eggs                                 |
| Sift together  | 1 cup mashed bananas                   |
| Add to creamed mixture alternately with                    | 1 teaspoon vanilla                     |
| Fold in  | 2 cups sifted cake flour               |
|  | 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder |
|  | 1/2 teaspoon salt                      |
|  | 1/2 cup sour or buttermilk             |
|  | 1/2 cup soda                           |
|  | 1/2 cup chopped nuts                   |
- Beat well after each addition. Pour into two greased and floured eight-inch layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes.

The ONLY Shortening That's TRIPLE GUARANTEED!

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

The hotels in Los Angeles and Hollywood were jammed. For a very good reason. The reason is that the alert Chamber of Commerce and Southern California convention and tourist bureaus send out all manner of alluring literature.

"Come to sunny Southern California and lie on the beach."

Along with this folder goes a four-color picture of a dolly in her little sisters bathing suit. "This is what will be sitting around begging you to rub her back with sun-tan lotion." That is what the advertising implies.

This is not exactly true. First you must get a room to live in. And, ah, there's the rub.

Lady said to me the other day: "Ah, but it is different for you gentlemen of the press."

Well, any lady who calls me a gentleman can have the shirt off my back. And rub me with sun-tan lotion.

I must agree that it is different.

At the present I am possessed of a number of official documents. These documents declare that I am in the business of molding public opinion for the dailies. And no man may dare interfere or he will be interfering with the First Amendment regarding a free press.

At least that is the way I read my documents.

Actually these documents permit the FBI to inspect ME. I am regarded with deep suspicion by the Secret Service for being in possession of them.

I am sneered at by elevator operators and misdirected to the gentleman's lounge when I ask for the press room.

It is not that way in the moving pictures they make around here. But official gentlemen and snooty hotel clerks apparently do not go to pictures.

If they did, they would know that Mr. Clark Gable would not stand for this sort of thing. Not when he plays a gentleman of the press.

Mr. Gable is hustled off by the doorman while attempting to ask Miss Honeydew Mellon why she takes benzadrine. Immediately, he goes to a telephone, filling his mouth with copy paper to disguise his voice. He telephones the doorman.

"Joe," he says, "this is Honeydew Mellon, star of stage, screen and radio and heiress de luxe. Joe, I have got a date to racket around with my sugar doughnut this eve and have run out of cologne. Be a good boy and run up to the drugstore."

Joe hustles off and Mr. Gable shimmies up the fire escape.

In a few minutes, Miss Honeydew is telephoning the boy friend she has a headache and can she make it another night.

This is the way they do things in moving pictures which, as you know, are better than ever.

This is not the way they do it for me. First they never have a telephone so I can get the doorman on the pipe.

I cannot shimmy up fire escapes as I am allergic to heights. Also Los Angeles is full of ambitious young policemen who are anxious to make sergeant by blasting prowlers off the second landing.

At one time I wished to ask a question of the President of the United States. I showed all my documents to the Secret Service man. He said I could not ask a question. Nor could we point a finger, let alone a camera at him.

"Listen," I said, "This guy is running for election and I came 3,000 miles to talk to him."

"Yeah?" said the Secret Service man. "Well, blow."

This gives you a little idea of the difference between me and Mr. Gable. And I thought you'd never ask.

Fair-Play Methods Said Best To Fight Communism

OMAHA (AP)—“The only way we can defeat Communism is to utilize the fair-play methods that built this democracy,” Harry Cain of the federal subversives control board told American Legion members here Monday.

The former United States senator from Washington said, “nothing is further from the truth, or more injurious, than to assume because we are hunting rats we must use rat-like methods.”

Cain described the subversives board as a judicial body that employs all the guarantees of the bill of rights. Its purpose is to clear or convict organizations listed as subversive by the attorney general, Cain said.

The first case tried was that of the attorney general vs. Communist party, U.S.A. Cain said the board established that the Communist party is a Communist action and led the way for the registration of card-carrying Communists. He told Legionnaires the case enabled the board to develop 12 additional cases.

Cain was one of three speakers on the morning program of the state Legion convention. Also heard were Truman Wold, national vice commander of the Legion, and Ivan D. Marsh, the Legion's deputy chief of aims.

Monday afternoon delegates attended a traditional barbecue at Fort Omaha.

Highlight of Tuesday's program will be election of state officers.

Wegner Again Heads Lutheran Group; Annual Meeting Opens

LINCOLN Star Special SEWARD, Neb.—The 21st convention of the southern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod opened Monday afternoon on the campus of Concordia Teachers College at Seward.

Near 300 delegates and visitors registered when the president, the Rev. A. F. Wegner of Chappell, declared the convention in session.

In his address, the Rev. Mr. Wegner spoke of the convention theme taken from the gospel of St. John, Chapter II, verse 30, quotation, “He must increase.”

He pointed out that these words of John the Baptist, spoken concerning Jesus Christ, are vital also today in our outlook on events.

Eleven new pastors were received into membership in the last biennium, the president stated, besides some 28 transfers.

New Congregations

Two new congregations were received into the district, Faith Lutheran, 63rd and Madison, Lincoln, the Rev. Charles H. Born, pastor, and St. Paul's Lutheran of Madrid, the Rev. E. Finnigsmier, pastor.

In the elections, President Wegner was re-elected for his third three year term by a unanimous vote. Other elections are being conducted in the course of the sessions.

Delegates were elected to represent the southern Nebraska district at the Synodical Conference convention in Detroit next week. They are: the Rev. F. W. Bangert of Staplehurst, the Rev. William Ditzel of Holstein, Lester Hummel of Daykin, and Harold Bergt of Hastings.

President Wegner was also asked to attend by the District.

The Rev. Dreyer of Nebraska City and the Rev. Walter Landgras of Beatrice reported on their part-time work with the blind and feeble minded at the respective state institutions.

Dr. Paul Zimmerman, the new president of Concordia, welcomed the convention to the campus and gave a brief report.

Dr. J. W. Behnken, the president of the Missouri Synod, gave a report on the work of the church in its colleges and world-wide missions. He was also the speaker at the Monday evening communion service held at St. John's Lutheran Church in Seward, the Rev. Marvin Yauk, pastor.

Senate Committee Asks Restoration Of Basin Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee has recommended that $6,413,000 in construction and rehabilitation funds for seven projects be restored to the reclamation bureau's supplemental appropriation bill.

The committee voted earlier to restore funds cut by the House from the bill for the year which began last July 1. The committee's report Monday disclosed which projects would benefit.

The proposed restorations included:

Missouri River basin project, Bostwick division, Kansas-Nebraska, $1,350,000; Missouri River basin project, Glendo unit, Wyoming, 2 Million; Missouri River basin project, Hancock unit, Wyoming, $293,000; Missouri River basin project, transmission line from Nebraska state line to Belden, Neb., $450,000.

The Senate committee also is recommending addition of $500,000 for project investigations by the reclamation bureau.

OMAHA (AP)—Paul S. Kruger of Fort Calhoun, Neb., said Monday he wanted to keep the record “straight” on the controversial Belden transmission line proposal.

The Senate Appropriations Committee Saturday included $450,000 in a supplemental bill for construction of the line from the Gavins Point Dam to Belden, Neb., after they had been deleted from the interior appropriations bill in conference.

Kruger said he hoped Senators Bowring and Reynolds “in their zeal to campaign for Governor Crosby,” had not jeopardized the Belden line by making it a “political football.”

Kruger, a supporter of Rep. Carl T. Curtis for the Republican nomination for the Senate said he had been “in close touch with Senator Butler (who died July 1) and Congressman Carl Curtis” concerning the Belden line. Kruger was campaign manager for the late Sen. Butler.

Talked To Congressman

“In fact I talked by phone to Senator Butler and Carl Curtis about the Belden line in the afternoon before Senator Butler was stricken,” Kruger said. “He and Mr. Curtis had just finished a meeting with Interior Secretary McKay and other interior department officials on the project.”

Kruger said Senators Bowring and Reynolds had met with House members about money for the Belden line, but the House committee denied their request. He added that the $450,000 for Belden is not yet assured, and that funds must be voted by the Senate and cleared by a House-Senate conference.

In view of the opposition of Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Ia) a member of the House appropriations committee, Kruger said it is doubtful if the Belden money will be finally approved.

Jensen Comments

Jensen Monday said in Washington he hoped the matter would not become a “political football” in Nebraska.

In Omaha, Sens. Bowring and Reynolds had commented on the transmission line when attending a Crosby meeting.

Mrs. Bowring said she felt confident the Senate would approve funds for the line and said she, Reynolds, Rep. Robert Harrison and Rep. Roman Hruska had met with a conference committee to discuss the subject.

Reynolds commented he didn't remember seeing Curtis at the meeting and added “I don't believe he was even in Washington at the time of the meeting.” Reynolds said he understood Curtis “had been taking credit for the situation.”

“Carl Curtis has done everything in his power to get funds appropriated for this Gavins Point-Belden transmission line,” Jensen said.

Glendo Dam Okay May Come This Week

Project Would Aid Nebraska

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a good chance that Congress will appropriate two million dollars this week to begin work on the multi-purpose Glendo Dam in Wyoming.

The Senate appropriations committee has approved starting money for this project. Chairman Jensen (R-Ia) of the House interior appropriations subcommittee has said he believes his group will have no objections in conference to the appropriation if the Senate approves it. The item was not included in the supplemental appropriation bill recently passed by the House.

The dam, on the North Platte River in Wyoming about 30 miles from the Nebraska line, would benefit Wyoming, Nebraska and Colorado. The project would provide for power, flood control, irrigation, fish and wildlife, recreation and pollution control.

Two Power Plants
Plans for the $50,859,000 project call for a 24,000 kilowatt power plant at Glendo, with a 48,000 kilowatt power plant serving hundreds of miles north at Fremont Canyon.

The Fremont plant, to cost some 17 million dollars of the 50 million plus total, depends on the Glendo Dam Without Glendo as a regulating dam, the Fremont power plant would not be feasible.

The reservoir behind the proposed Glendo Dam would store 800,000 acre feet.

Engineers estimate the Glendo project can be completed in about five years if appropriations are provided each year as they are needed.

Power from Glendo would be of much value in western Nebraska, and the reservoir there would aid in flood control of the North Platte as it moves into Nebraska. Wyoming would benefit more than Nebraska and Colorado from the irrigation uses of the project.

Glendo Dam plans call for an earth-filled structure 203 feet high, with a power plant of two 12,000 kilowatt units. The Fremont canyon plant would operate year round from water released from the existing Pathfinder reservoir through a 16,400 foot tunnel. Glendo power plant would operate principally during the irrigation season and to meet peak needs.

Glendo would provide flood protection to the area in the vicinity of Torrington, Wyo., and Scottsbluff, Morrill and Bridgeport in Nebraska.

OMAHA (AP)—The Douglas County Board Monday rejected nearly 400 protests against first-half 1954 taxes.

The county attorney's office said most of the protests covered real estate taxes and claimed that taxes were excessive.

But the office pointed out there are only two grounds for protests under state law—double assessment of property and exemption from taxation.

The county treasurer's office said the protests had tied up $360,000.

Omahan, 'Missing' 15 Years, Is Reunited With His Parents

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 31-year-old "missing son" returned to Omaha after seeing his parents for the first time in 15 years.

Donald Borkin left on his bicycle in 1939. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Borkin never heard from him again. Last Tuesday they had him officially declared dead.

News stories on the court action led to the finding of Donald at Bellevue, Neb., at the edge of Omaha, where he was living with his wife and small child under the name "Joseph Doyle."

He was traced through a Milwaukee woman who reported she had received a letter from Donald in 1939, postmarked from Oskaloosa, Ia. Oskaloosa police located him at Omaha.

Donald, as soon as he was contacted by his father, went to Rochester, Minn. His mother had undergone treatment at a hospital there. The parents and son drove here.

York Trustees Ask New Trial

Lincoln Star Special
YORK, Neb.—Trustees of York College and President A. V. Howland have filed a motion for a new trial following the appointment of five new trustees to handle disposition of college property.

The original action was taken by District Judge Harry D. Landis on the application of County Attorney John Zeilinger. (At that time Zeilinger said he was acting as an individual person and not as county attorney.)

The motion alleges that there were "irregularities in court proceedings" and that the action was an "accident or surprise." It further alleges that trustees were appointed without evidence, testimony or notice of hearing.

Restrictive Clause
The judge's order was based on the restrictive clause in the original York College deed which provides for trustees to be appointed if the real property is abandoned.

The original trustees state that they have taken no action "to alienate, encumber or abandon the property of York College."

On June 30, the college trustees voted to discontinue the college program for the coming school year. At that time a committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of securing a purchaser for the property and to consider transfer of assets and payment of debts and liabilities of the college.

The committee is to report back to the original trustees.

Matilda Quinn, clerk of the District Court, said that Judge Landis probably will hear the action for a new trial. However, Judge Landis is on vacation and will not be holding court until September.

Glendo Dam Okay May Come This Week

Project Would Aid Nebraska

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a good chance that Congress will appropriate two million dollars this week to begin work on the multi-purpose Glendo Dam in Wyoming.

The Senate appropriations committee has approved starting money for this project. Chairman Jensen (R-Ia) of the House interior appropriations subcommittee has said he believes his group will have no objections in conference to the appropriation if the Senate approves it. The item was not included in the supplemental appropriation bill recently passed by the House.

The dam, on the North Platte River in Wyoming about 30 miles from the Nebraska line, would benefit Wyoming, Nebraska and Colorado. The project would provide for power, flood control, irrigation, fish and wildlife, recreation and pollution control.

Two Power Plants

Plans for the $50,859,000 project call for a 24,000 kilowatt power plant at Glendo, with a 48,000 kilowatt power plant several hundred miles north at Fremont Canyon.

The Fremont plant, to cost some 17 million dollars of the 50 million plus total, depends on the Glendo Dam. Without Glendo as a regulating dam, the Fremont power plant would not be feasible.

The reservoir behind the proposed Glendo Dam would store 800,000 acre feet.

Engineers estimate the Glendo project can be completed in about five years if appropriate tions are provided each year as they are needed.

Power from Glendo would be of much value in western Nebraska and the reservoir there would aid in flood control of the North Platte as it moves into Nebraska. Wyoming would benefit more than Nebraska and Colorado from the irrigation uses of the project.

Glendo Dam plans call for an earth-filled structure 203 feet high, with a power plant of two 12,000 kilowatt units. The Fremont canyon plant would operate year round from water released from the existing Pathfinder reservoir through a 16,400 foot tunnel. Glendo power plant would operate principally during the irrigation season and to meet peak needs.

Glendo would provide flood protection to the area in the vicinity of Torrington, Wyo., and Scottsbluff, Morrill and Bridgeport in Nebraska.

Re-enactment Of Historical Meet Planned

FORT CALHOUN, Neb. (AP)—A meeting which took place 150 years ago between Missouri and Otoe Indian chiefs and Lewis and Clark will be re-enacted here Tuesday.

At the Aug. 3, 1804, council, Meriwether Lewis explained to the Indians that the government far to the east had bought the plains and mountains and that the Indians would now be bound by law.

Lewis and Clark at the time were exploring the Louisiana Purchase and paused for their council with the Indians on a hilltop near the site of present Fort Calhoun.

Dr. Howard Driggs of New York, president of the American Pioneer Trails Assn., will make the principal address Tuesday.

MRS. CLINTON A. HOOVER

The Methodist Church at Wallace was lighted by white candles burning in floor candles, and appointed with arrangements of blue delphinium, white gladioli and stock, for the marriage of Miss Beverly Marlene Murray, daughter of Mrs. Louis Murray of Wallace, and the late Mr. Murray, to Clinton A. Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ragan L. Hoover of Utica, on Sunday evening, Aug. 1.

Preceding the 8 o'clock service, which was read by the Rev. O. Dale Hukley, a prelude of organ music was presented by Miss Patty Kain, who also played the wedding music and accompanied George Cummings, vocal soloist.

Wearing alike waltz-length frocks of sapphire blue taffeta were Miss Sharon Huntington of Fremont, who attended her cousin as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Elwin G. Murray and Mrs. Lorene Correll of Wallace. They carried cascades of blue delphinium, white stock and Majestic daisies. Miss Janice Schultz of York, in blue organdy, was the flower girl and lighting the candles were Miss Janet Hallett and Miss Rhonda Robertson, wearing blue satin choir robes. Stanley Hoover of Utica served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Richard Hoover, Lincoln, and Walter Davis of Seward. Terry Schultz of York and Lewis Huntington of Fremont were the ring bearers.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Elwin G. Murray of Wallace, and wore a period gown of white imported lace. Shallow scallops of the lace edged the décolletage of the molded bodice, and the sleeves were long and fitted.

Caught into soft fullness, the circular skirt extended into a wide train, and her veil of French illusion was held by a pearl Juliet cap. She carried a white Bible marked with a single white orchid and showered with valley-lilies.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 250 guests was held at the Community Hall.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is completing his studies for a Masters Degree at the University of Nebraska, of which he is a graduate. He is a member of Alpha Zeta honorary. Mrs. Hoover has attended the University of Nebraska, where she now is employed, and is a member of the Nu Phi Mu business sorority.

It Wasn't The Rain

WISH WE could say that it was August's nice wet weather that inspired all of the activity that seems to be around and about—But we're forced to admit that one doesn't wait for a raindrop to plan a vacation trip—or to return home, or to roll out the red carpet for guests—or even have a party—So fond as we might be of the brand new month and its damp approach, we can't give credit where credit isn't due—It just wasn't the rain.

UNDERSTAND that Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Elliott and their son, Stewart, are back in town again after a few weeks holiday which took them first to Great Falls, Mont., and a visit with Dr. Elliott's brother—then to the Jackson Hole country for a week's stay—and last—to Daven Haven, Grand Lake, Colo.

AND mention of Colorado reminds us that the Sellecks, Mr. and Mrs. John K. and their daughter, Mrs. John D. Phillips Jr., are vacationing at Estes Park—At least Mr. Selleck WAS at Estes—at the moment he is in Lincoln, having returned last Friday in time for the summer commencement at the University of Nebraska. He plans to leave again on Friday, and will have another week's stay in Estes before accompanying his family home.

SOMEONE told us that Mr. and Mrs. James Ackerman and their family will leave a week from Sunday for Ten Mile Lake, near Hackensack, Minn., where they will spend the remainder of the month.

AND the Wyman Kenagys—Mr. and Mrs.—are back in town after a week spent in Minnesota where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson B. Weston of Beatrice at their summer home in Bemidji.

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Grabill took off yesterday for Winnipeg, Canada, from there they will go to Banff and Lake Louise—spend some time at Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., and then go down the west coast to San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego—and then home.

THE calendar, amazingly, has a party or two—or three to its credit—One was a farewell courtesy—another was a birthday surprise party, and the third, yet to come, will be more or less of a welcome home affair.

The farewell courtesy was last Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein were hosts and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner, and when they honored Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Barton who are soon to leave Lincoln.

THE surprise party had as its incentive, Alfred DuTeau who celebrated his birthday anniversary last Saturday, and for whom a group of the bridge club—the "Maine and Tail" club—had a surprise birthday dinner at the Lincoln Country club.

AND when Mrs. Donald Grant entertains at a 10 o'clock coffee next Thursday morning at her home it will more or less welcome Mrs. Bernard Weygint—Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska, back to Lincoln after an absence of six years. Ten guests have been invited for the coffee and informal morning.

THE guest list, while not as flourishing as it might be this morning, certainly merits attention—Just heard that Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Boze and their daughter, Linda, arrived from Chicago a day or two ago to spend two weeks at the guests of Mr. Boze's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Boze, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Campbell.

AND from Denver has come Miss Florence Turner who is the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bish, Miss Turner is spending several days in Lincoln en route to Ballymena, North Ireland, where she will teach under the Fulbright Exchange Program this coming year. Miss Turner, a graduate of Hastings College and Denver University, has been on the Denver Public Schools faculty.

Complimenting the visitor on Monday morning was Mrs. James Keill who entertained at an informal coffee at her home.

ARRIVING from Detroit, Mich., today will be Mr. and Mrs. George M. Rice and their four children, Nancy, Janet, Bill and Bob, who will remain until Aug. 16 as the house guests of Mrs. Rice's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leobard Flansburg.

TWO Lincoln guests, Mrs. Lincoln Kilbourne of Columbus, O., and her brother, F. Pace Woods Jr., of Los Angeles, who are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pace Woods, are leaving Thursday on interim trips—but will be back in town. Mrs. Kilbourne goes to join Mr. Kilbourne on a Lake Erie cruise after which both will return to Lincoln—and Mr. Woods Jr., goes on to New York City on a combined business and pleasure trip—but will stop in Lincoln en route to his home on the west coast.

NOTE to Alpha Tau Omega circles—re: new legacy—From Twin Falls, Idaho, comes word of the birth of a son, Peter Mathias, on Sunday, July 25, to Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lampert. Mrs. Lampert is the former Sidney Ann Gardner, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Walter J. Gardner of Washington, D. C., formerly of Lincoln, and Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska. Young Peter's paternal grandmother is Mrs. W. H. Linn of Lincoln.

OTHER news from the talcum powder set this morning involves the arrival of Daniel Shaw Hyland on Saturday, July 31, at Lincoln General Hospital. Mrs. Hyland is the former Jane Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Shaw of Corpus Christi, Tex., formerly of David City. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Hyland

We Hear That

Mrs. E. J. Stoesser and her son, George, of Carmel, Calif., are spending several days in Lincoln as the guests of Mrs. Stoesser's mother, Mr. C. H. Ferris, and sister, Miss Regina Ferris. The travelers are en route home from Champagne, Ill., and Kalamazoo, Mich., where George, who is the California State boys' tennis champion, was runner-up in national boys' and junior tennis tournaments.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stroman and family of Fresno, Calif., are visiting Mr. Stroman's father, Burr Stroman, in Ulysses and other members of their family in Utica.

Autumn Bride-Elect

MISS JANET KAY LEBACK

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lebsack announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janet Kay, to Donald V. Isherwood, son of Mrs. Jack Searles of Lincoln, and Donald A. Isherwood of Omaha.

The wedding is planned for early autumn.

Mr. Isherwood attended the University of Nebraska for two years, and now is stationed with the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

LWC Board Has Meeting

Mrs. Harry W. Hust, president of the Lincoln Woman's Club, presided at a meeting of the executive board Monday morning at the YWCA when the group discussed plans for participating in the state-wide club project of investigating children's comic books.

Planned at the annual spring convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, the project will include a tour of newstands early in September when the club members will inspect for objectionable literature for children.

A report by the treasurer, Mrs. H. A. Schoenthal, and discussion of program plans were also features of the morning meeting.

ESA Plans State Convention

Making plans for their annual state convention are the members of the 41 chapters of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority in Nebraska who will meet at Ogallala Sept. 3, 4 and 5.

Hostesses for the ninth annual convention will be the two Ogallala chapters, Alpha Xi and Alpha Psi, and presiding officer will be Mrs. Edith Dunn of Ogallala, state president.

A series of executive council meetings will precede the convention which will include workshops, reports on the international convention of the sorority, held at Columbus, O., in June, and a report on the sorority's philanthropic project of aid to muscular dystrophy patients.

Mrs. Dunn and Miss Ione Rischling of Lincoln, state delegates, will report on the international convention, and a talk on the philanthropic project will be given by Miss Alice Helker of Omaha, state project leader.

The convention will close with a formal banquet and an address by a representative from the sorority's international headquarters at Loveland, Colo. Post-convention plans include a tour of the Lake McCaughy areas.

Light Voting Predicted Today In Kansas, Missouri, Michigan, West Virginia

Tuesday, August 3, 1954 THE LINCOLN STAR 9

... Dewey Short Race Draws Interest

By The Associated Press
Light voting was predicted in four states — Kansas, Missouri, Michigan and West Virginia—Tuesday in primaries involving no major contests.

Some national interest centered on the bid by Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, for re-nomination Short, a veteran of 22 years in Congress, is opposed by state Sen. Noel Cox.

In the four states, nominations are to be made for three Senate seats and 41 places in the House. Kansas and Michigan also will nominate candidates for governor. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the Republican Senate Policy Committee, is unopposed for nomination. Senators Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) and Matthew Neely (D-WVa.) have done little campaigning against what they consider light opposition.

Even Betting
The big race in Michigan is selection of a Republican opponent for Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is unopposed for re-nomination to an unprecedented fourth term.

Betting was about even on the chances of three of the four GOP candidates—State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary and Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner. The fourth candidate, former Lt. Gov. Eugene Keves, is not given much chance. Ferguson's opponent in November will be Patrick V. McNamara.

Teacher Social Security Gets Committee'No'

A legislative council committee Monday recommended against putting Nebraska teachers under the federal social security law as presently constituted.

The committee advised that teachers be retained under the present state retirement system and that no changes be made unless and until certain changes are made in the federal social security law.

The stumbling blocks to the change, the report said, are:

1. The federal requirement that the state retirement system must be abolished before the teachers can be placed under social security, "thus presenting numerous administrative and legal problems."

2. The fact that, since under the present law coverage and retirement benefits are computed from the base date of Jan. 1, 1951, Nebraska teachers would permanently lose some of their potential benefits. The Nebraska school retirement system was enacted in 1945.

The committee recommended, however, that the present study be continued during the next biennium in anticipation that federal law will be changed so as to remove the present obstacles.

The study by the "committee on the desirability of placing public school teachers under the federal social security program" was ordered by the 1953 legislature.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh headed the committee and members included Sens. Dwight W. Burney, D. J. Cole, Glenn Cramer, Herbert J. Duns, R. W. Hill, Richard D. Marvel, William S. Moulton and Charles Wilson.

The report now goes to the Legislative Council for review.

Mrs. Sara French Dies At Age Of 94

Mrs. Sara Isabella French, 94, of 1732 So. 24th, died at her home Monday.

The widow of S. S. French, she was born in Indiana and lived in Lincoln the past 24 years. She had lived in the state since 1893.

She was a member of Trinity Methodist Church.

Surviving are daughters, Mrs. Clarence Emerson of Lincoln and Miss Iva French of Tulsa, Okla.; son, Orva of Kansas City, Mo.; 10 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

Local Clothiers Figure Angles And Decide To Remain True To Form

The men who were up in arms at the news of Christian Dior's new "flat look" can relax now. It won't happen here.

The de-emphasized bust and flattened figure brought out by Dior in Paris won't be widely accepted by other designers, Lincoln buyers say.

And the new "flat look" fashions obviously won't be readily accepted by the public—the feminine public included.

Dior has long been a pace-setter in ladies' fashions. But other designers usually tend toward his ideas without getting nearly so extreme.

Local stores this fall will be showing clothes that are more casual, easier and looser—some what in the Dior manner.

Waistlines are not cinched in as tightly as they were last year, but neither are bustlines flattened as Dior directed.

Adlai On Statehood

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, tanned from his Alaska vacation, said Monday that if a public opinion poll were taken now among Alaskans 80 per cent of them would vote for statehood.

The Democratic party's 1952 standard bearer said this compares with a previous poll showing 60 per cent for statehood. Stevenson did not identify the poll or its date.

Clarence Blazier Rites Wednesday

Funeral for Clarence E. Blazier, 62, of 1542 So. 22nd, who died Monday, will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. at Hodgman-Splain Mortuary.

The Rev. Brockman will officiate and American Legion Post 3 will be in charge of military services at graveside. Burial will be in Wyuka.

A resident of Lincoln 13 years, he came here from Arapahoe. He was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Inis of Wayneville, Mo.; son, Maurice F. of Scottsbluff; two sisters, Mrs. G. E. Nicholson of McCook and Mrs. Chester Scott of Los Angeles; and two brothers, William of Los Angeles and Fred of Alliance.

Teacher Social Security Gets Committee 'No'

A legislative council committee Monday recommended against putting Nebraska teachers under the federal social security law as presently constituted.

The committee advised that teachers be retained under the present state retirement system and that no changes be made unless and until certain changes are made in the Federal social security law.

The stumbling blocks to the change, the report said, are:

1. The federal requirement that the state retirement system must be abolished before the teachers can be placed under social security, "thus presenting numerous administrative and legal problems."

2. The fact that, since under the present law coverage and retirements benefits are computed from the base date of Jan. 1, 1951, Nebraska teachers would permanently lose some of their potential benefits. The Nebraska school retirement system was enacted in 1945.

The committee recommended, however, that the present study be continued during the next biennium in anticipation that federal law will be changed so as to remove the present obstacles.

The study by the "committee on the desirability of placing public school teachers under the federal social security program" was ordered by the 1953 legislature.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh headed the committee and members included Sens. Dwight W. Burney, D. J. Cole, Glenn Cramer, Herbert J. Duis, R. W. Hill, Richard D. Marvel, William S. Moulton and Charles Wilson.

The report now goes to the Legislative Council for review.

Counties Feel Values 'OK,' But All Want In On Cut

"We feel our assessment values are about right, but if you're going to make a general reduction, we want in on it, too."

That, in substance, was the view given the State Board of Equalization Monday by most of the 40 counties that showed up for the wind-up of a series of hearings designed to help the state board do its equalizing job.

Several counties took exception to the view that land and property values have dropped in the past year.

Trouble Feared

Some contended that the counties which lowered their assessed values this year should be raised, and counties which "held the line" should be left unchanged.

Scotts Bluff County noted that its tax levy of about 4.75 mills is approaching the 5 mill limit and any sizable drop in valuations would cause trouble.

Several counties made specific reference to the 18 1/2 per cent drop in town property valuations in Douglas County and asked comparable treatment.

Hearings Expanded

The hearings Monday resulted from the state board's decision last week to expand the hearings to cover all counties with a view to a possible general adjustment.

ment downward in values from last year because of depressed real estate prices.

Originally, the assessment abstracts of 51 counties had been approved as submitted.

Counties and their representatives showed up in such numbers Monday that the hearings had to be transferred from the governor's hearing room to the legislative chamber.

Adams Satisfied

Counties appearing were Adams, Cass, Colfax, Cumming, Dundee, Fillmore, Franklin, Gage, Garfield, Jefferson, Johnson, Kearney, Knox, Lincoln, Logan, Loup, Madison, Merrick, Nemaha, Sherman, Stanton, Thurston, Wheeler, York, Antelope, Cheyenne, Thayer, Hamilton, Furnas, Dawson, Buffalo, Clay, Gosper, Sarpy, Nuckolls, Saunders, Nemaha and Cedar.

Adams County, which maintained farm valuations this year and raised town lot valuations about 1 per cent, was represented by Assessor August Anderson, who said the county was satisfied with its own figures but wanted an 18 per cent reduction if Douglas County was going to be permitted to keep such a reduction.

Guy A. Brown sr., of Geneva, chairman of the Fillmore County board, echoed the view.

"We don't want to pay somebody else's bill," said Brown.

Gage County Attorney William Rist told the state board his county this year reduced city valuations about 7 1/2 per cent. But this, he said, was to correct for disproportion between city and farm values resulting from the increases ordered by the state board last year.

A scientific reappraisal of Gage County was completed in 1952. After the state board's action last year, farm lands were tax appraised at 66 per cent, city real estate at 85 per cent of the scientifically appraised value, he noted.

Rist said he feels that generally speaking, real estate values have not declined in Gage County, but if any statewide reduction is made, Gage County should share in it.

City Property Too High

Jefferson County Assessor J. W. Winslow said the state board's adjustment last year put city property relatively too high. As a result, values have been lowered on some business buildings at Fairbury this year. He suggested that another 10 per cent reduction in city property valuations would be in order but that farm land valuations should be left unchanged unless a statewide reduction is decided upon.

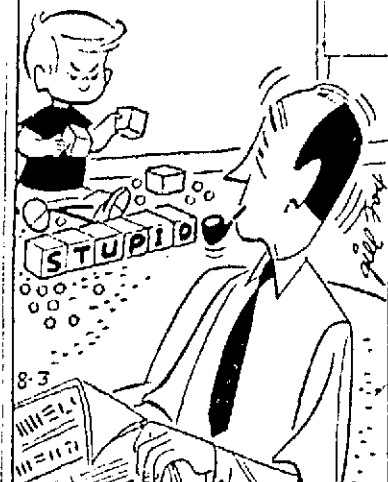

Andy S. Hahn of Sutherland, Lincoln County commissioner, reported that a reappraisal is under way in his county, with town valuations under the reappraisal already on the books.

Madison County Assessor C. B. Bouman said the state board's 7 1/2 per cent increase ordered last year on city valuations "really worked a hardship on Norfolk."

Several Norfolk properties have been selling for less than their appraised value, he said.

10 Per. Limit Urged

Scotts Bluff County's story was told by County Commissioner C. G. Nichols of Minatare and C. A. Emery. They asked that if any reduction is made, it not be more than 10 per cent. They asked if the reduction could be made to apply to unimproved farm lands and to city improvements, as opposed to farm improvements and vacant city lots. State Auditor Ray Johnson, presiding for the state board, said the state board by law can only deal with farm properties as a class, and city properties as a class.

Garfield County Attorney Leo F. Clinch suggested the board recognize that ranch land values are geared to the rise and fall of cattle prices, and give some attention to properties listed but unsold at the asking price in determining true values.

Seward County Assessor Fred H. Bruns Jr., suggested that major changes would involve a hardship on county officials who already have done a large part of their tax work.

In preliminary remarks to the county representatives, Gov. Crosby, chairman of the state board, said that in general adjustments would be downward. The changes will be made with as "little injustice as possible."

Duties Of Poll Watchers Told

The attorney general's office advised Monday it would be against the law for a political party to have poll watchers in a polling place during an election to check on who has voted so that registered voters who haven't voted could be reminded to get to the polls and do so.

The opinion was asked by the election commissioner's office in Lincoln.

Harold Gillett, Lancaster County election commissioner, said: "We wanted to be sure where we stood in the event that either party asked for poll watchers."

Rumors

He said they wanted to be sure of watchers' duties and make arrangements for swearing them in if necessary.

Gillett said that although neither party had formally asked for poll watchers there have been rumors that they might. Neither party has asked for poll watchers since 1947, he said.

The attorney general's opinion noted that poll watchers are authorized to be on hand as counting boards do their work but are sworn to say nothing about the results until the polls close.

There is no reference in law to watchers for receiving boards, the opinion said. It added, however:

"It is our opinion that any person loitering about the receiving board and observing the number of ballots being cast for a party, who then uses the information so gained to determine whether other registered party voters need be solicited to turn out to vote, is attempting to affect the result of the election and, hence is clearly engaged in 'electioneering'."

The opinion was by Attorney General C. S. Beck and Assistant Attorney General Richard H. Williams.

—Milwaukee Streak Ends At 10—

Cox Hits Sacrifice Fly In 13th Inning, Gives Brooklyn 2-1 Win

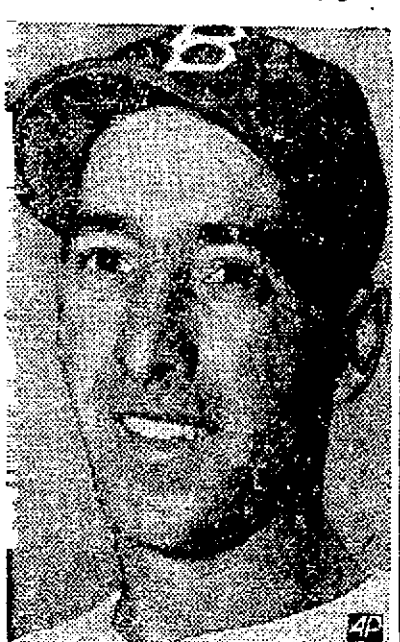

BROOKLYN (AP)—Billy Cox's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded in the 13th inning Monday snapped Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak with a 2-1 Brooklyn victory that pulled the Dodgers within five games of the idle New York Giants.

Singles by Duke Snider and Gil Hodges and an intentional walk to Sandy Amoros filled the bases for Brooklyn for the fifth time before Cox filed out to Hank Aaron, scoring Snider to end the long thriller. The victory was the first in the majors for Pete Wojey, a rookie who pitched the last innings.

Brooklyn held a 1-0 lead from the second inning to the ninth when Milwaukee tied the score on Del Crandall's single with two out. The Dodgers failed with the bases loaded in the sixth, eighth, ninth and 12th.

Joe Adcock, the Milwaukee first baseman who was "beamed" by Clem Labine in Sunday's game was back in the starting lineup. He drew a cheer from the crowd of 6,524 when he came up for the first time in the second inning and promptly doubled to right center, sliding in under Carl Furillo's throw. He moved to third on a wild pitch but was left.

The Dodgers dug into Jim (No. 10) Wilson for a run in the second on singles by Amoros, Jackie Robinson and Billy Loes.

Loes Weakens
Until the ninth, Billy Loes had pitched beautiful ball. He appeared on the way to his first shutout since May 10, 1953, until he suddenly weakened.

The first two Milwaukee batters in the ninth, Aaron and Adcock hit long fly balls that Snider and Amoros backed to the wall to catch.

Thomson Comes Through
Hughes had two strikes on Del Crandall before the catcher singled to center, scoring Pafko with the tying run. Logan stopped at second. Bobby Thomson, batting for relief pitcher Ernie Johnson, scratched a hit off Cox's glove, beating it out, bad ankle and all, to load the bases. But then Bruton lined out to Snider to retire the side.

Milwaukee had threatened in the eighth when singles by Crandall and Bruton put men on first and second with only one out. Loes made Danny O'Connell pop out and got Ed Mathews on a liner to Furillo.

Two walks and a single filled the bases for Brooklyn against Wilson in the sixth and against Ernie Johnson in the eighth. Each time Carl Furillo hit into a force play for the final out.

After the Braves tied the score in the ninth, Brooklyn managed to load them up again. Chet Nichols walked Roy Campanella, who moved to second on Hughes' sacrifice. Nichols gave way to Bob Buhl, following an intentional pass to Junior Gilliam. Buhl got Pee Wee Reese on a grounder, both runners advancing, and walked Snider intentionally. Hodges fouled to Mathews to leave three more Dodgers.

In the 12th, the Brooks filled the bases for the fourth time without scoring. Amoros' lead off single, an intentional walk to Furillo and a pass to pinch hitter Johnny Podres put Dave Jolly, the fifth Milwaukee pitcher, on the spot, but he made Gilliam ground out.

Aaron opened the 13th for Milwaukee with a triple but Wojey put down the next three men in order.

The Dodgers left 20 men on base, tying a 23-year-old record in the National League for a 13-inning game. Pittsburgh stranded 20 against Philadelphia in 1931.

The Braves left 12, making a two-team total of 32 players left on base. This figure was two short of the National League record and four short of the American mark for two teams in a 13-inning game.

Marciano-Charles Tiff Slated September 15

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles will have it out again at the Yankee stadium, Wednesday night, Sept. 15.

President Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club set the site and date Monday after consulting with Al Weill, manager of the undefeated Brockton blaster.

Charles' co-managers, Tom Tanas and Jake Mintz, previously had agreed to the fight "at any place and any time."

The two fighters and their managers will sign official contracts today at the State Athletic Commission office.

Norris said no decision has been made on whether the 15-round bout will be televised into homes, but once again it looks like parlor chair fans will be out of luck.

Although the IBC usually telecasts bouts on Wednesday nights, this particular date has been taken over by another sponsor for a special dramatic show.

Like the first bout on June 17, the return fight most likely will be radio broadcast nationally and telecast into theatres coast-to-coast over a closed circuit.

The June scrap drew 47,585 fans and grossed $543,092. Norris expects the repeat to equal those figures. Radio brought in another $35,000 and the theater-TV receipts boosted the kitty by at least $125,000 more. Rocky received $247,136 and Charles $123,568 with the champ getting 40 per cent of everything and the challenger 20. The same split will prevail.

Marciano, the cut over his left eye completely healed, already has started training at Grossinger, N. Y. Charles will pitch camp at Monticello, N. Y., 11 miles from Rocky's quarters, after the signing ceremony.

Charles, who went the route with Rocky although he took a severe battering, will be the first ex-champion to get a third crack at regaining the heavyweight crown.

Junior Gifford Is City Golf Medalist With 70

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Joe Gifford Jr. became a civilian in a big way over the damp fairways and greens of the Lincoln Country Club Monday afternoon when he cracked par by two strokes and won the medalist honor in the Men's City Golf Tournament.

The smooth Pioneers golfer who was an Army lieutenant only a week ago shot a 70 to beat Whitey Reed of Hillcrest by one stroke.

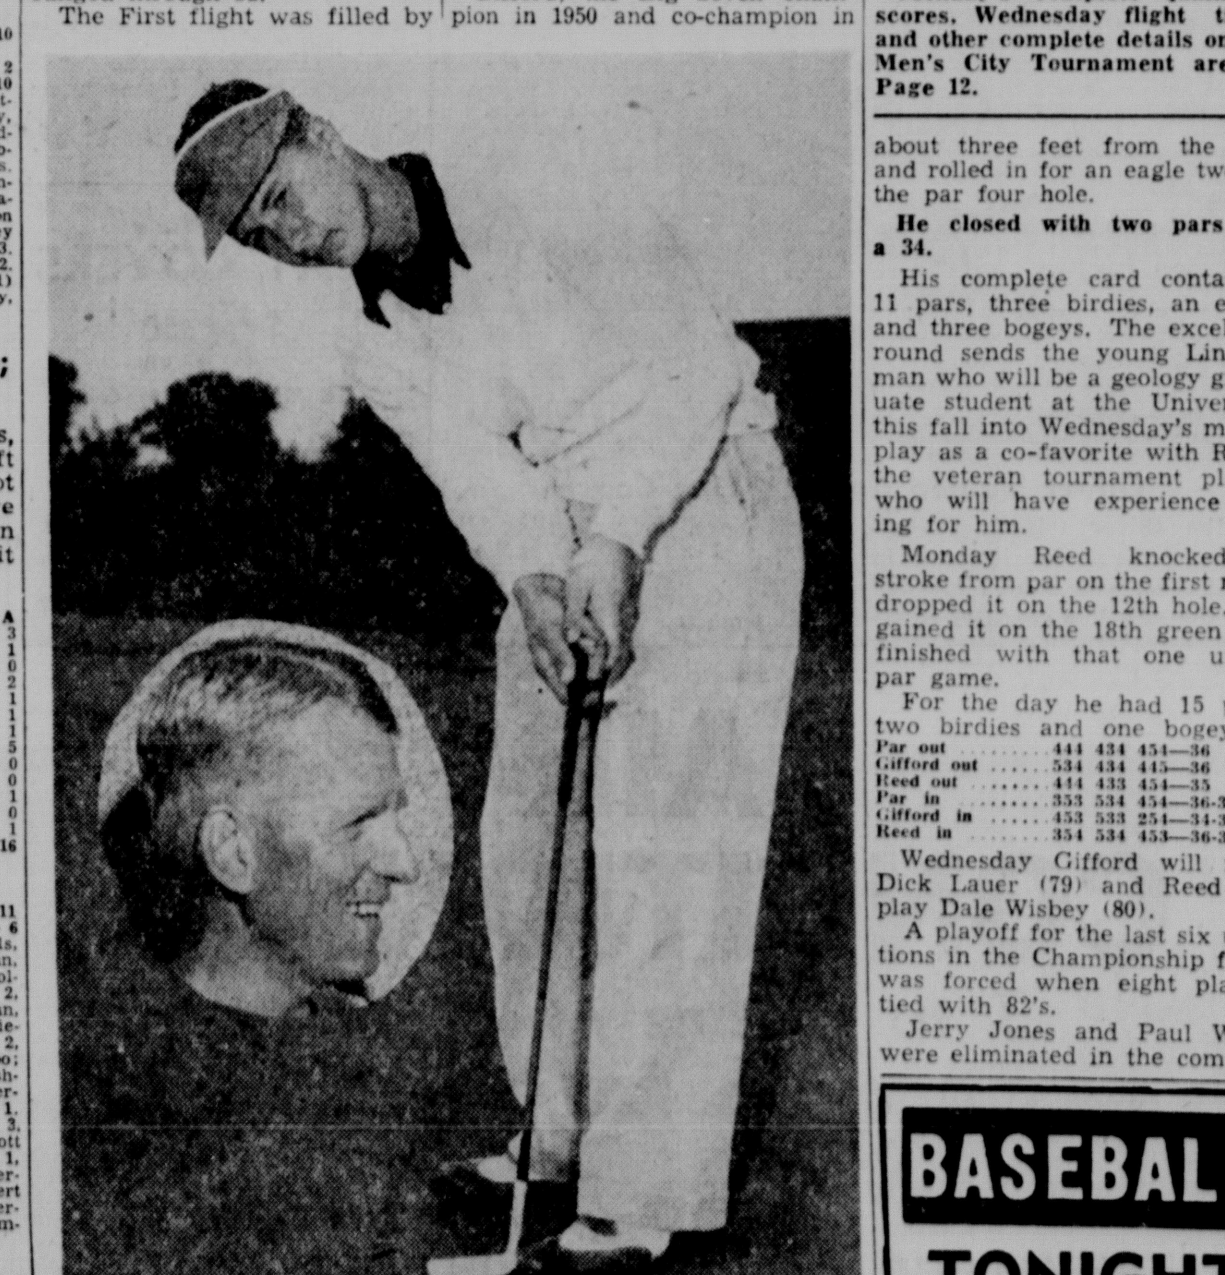

Dick Anderson and Gene Chadwell of Hillcrest trailed at 73 and 74 and the other 28 players who complete the Championship flight shot scores which ranged through 82.

The first flight was filled by 32 golfers who ran through 87. All below that figure fall into lower flights which will be determined after Tuesday's qualification round.

Gifford, the Big Seven champion in 1950 and co-champion in 1951 while a member of the University of Nebraska golf team, was out in par 36 with five pars, two birdies and two bogeys.

He went one over par on the 10th hole, hit four pars and regained that stroke on No. 15 with a birdie three.

It was on the 16th that he broke par permanently with a 140-yard nine iron shot which carried to the green with a slight wind, hit

Wichita First Foe Tonight

Lincoln Seeks Snap 9-Game Losing Streak, Reach Fourth

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Unhappily bearing a nine-game losing streak, the back-sliding Lincoln Chiefs return to Sherman Field tonight against the seventh-place Wichita Indians at 8 o'clock.

Skipper Whitey Wietelmann's up-and-down crew, now riding 7½ games out of fourth-place and a spot in the post-season playoffs, will be teeing off a 11-game home stand.

Undecided Monday night as his Chiefs enjoyed an evening of rest, Wietelmann is expected to toss either Andy Bush (14-7) or Norm Brown (8-13) against the hard-hitting Indians.

Following the three-game stand against Wichita, the Chiefs have Sherman Field business with Denver (6-7), Pueblo (8-9) and again Denver (10-11). The Aug. 8 and 10 dates are doubleheaders.

"We've lost some tough ones," said Wietelmann. "A few of the breaks should be coming our way soon and we'll need every one of 'em."

The Chiefs last left Lincoln after a 9-4 home stand. They were up to .500 and only 2½ games out of fourth place.

After losing all nine games on the western road swing, Lincoln is four games out of fifth and only a pair of games ahead of seventh-place Wichita.

Three special nights are announced today by General Manager Bill Herring.

"Help The Lincoln Club

"Elgin Night" will be observed Thursday with all fans given free admission.

"We want to find out exactly how many people are interested in keeping Western League baseball in Lincoln," said President A. Q. Schimmel of the Lincoln Baseball Club. "Any fan wanting to help the Lincoln Club can contribute anything from a penny on up. Everyone will be admitted free."

The Chiefs' home attendance now stands at 65,598 with 23 home dates remaining. If the season goal of 120,000 is to be realized, the crowds must average over 2,300 from here on.

A year ago, the Chiefs had drawn 62,458 at home and 23,241 away. The "away" total for 1954 is 77,816, giving the Chiefs an overall margin of 143,414 to 115,699 over a year ago.

Patterson Stops Harrison By TKO

BROOKLYN (AP)—Floyd Patterson, once beaten former Olympic champ, moved closer to the light heavyweight heights Monday night by stopping Tommy Harrison on a technical knockout in 1:29 of the first round at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Patterson weighed 169, heaviest of his career, and Harrison 176½ pounds.

Patterson swarmed over his more experienced opponent from Los Angeles and dropped him twice before Referee Mark Conn stopped the uneven contest.

A thudding right to the jaw floored Harrison after a minute of action. He got up at four but took the automatic eight-count.

Patterson drove in for the finisher with a left hook, a right uppercut and another hook that sent the 24-year old heavyweight to the deck. He just beat the 10-count and wobbled on his heels when Patterson started to go after him again. Conn stepped in quickly, heeding the shouts of the crowd and Patterson's motions, to end it.

Those sands of time took another dive the other day. Bob Miller, now vice president of a railroad in Arkansas, was in Lincoln.

Remember Bob Miller? He was student manager of those great Lincoln High football teams when Ralph Beechner was coaching Red and Black immortals like Fred Metheny, Buddy King, Red Hansen and Howard Debus.

Later, Bob was sports editor of the Daily Nebraskan. In fact he was The Firing Line's immediate predecessor in that job.

We remembered Bob as a stocky lad with an infectious sense of humor who had no enemies unless it be some sour puss without a sense of humor. Always ahead of his years, he was an army officer at 20 and now he's vice president of a railroad before No. 30 rolls around.

Bob unravels a lot of memories, but best of all, were those old football trips.

Brother Miller, in fact, was our accomplice on the first trip with the Huskers. If memory serves, we went to Ames, Ia., and back for a pooled sum of something like four bucks.

First was the task of stowing away on the Huskers' train.

Once we were aboard, Vic Schliech, Marv Athey and several of the bruisers hid us beneath a lower Pullman. Just as we were stowed away (with no room to spare), aboard came the entire Husker coaching and press and radio tourage.

There was John Selleck, then business manager of athletics; Biff Jones, Glenn Pressnell, Floyd Bottorff, Fred Ware, Bill De-Vriendt and at least a half dozen more.

As the train pulled out of Lincoln and chugged east, the entire gang was gathered in the Pullman where Miller and The Firing Line were stowed away. Several of them sat on the lower bunk, showing the mattress right into the pusses of the two teenage stowaways. Breathing came mighty hard, especially when Link Lyman plopped his 270 pounds on the bunk.

At long last, the session disbanded and all was peaceful until we reached Des Moines. Getting out was easy—we just mingled in with the warriors, standing in the shade of giant oaks like Schliech, Athey and Mike Francis.

On the way back, Big Vic and the boys again smuggled us aboard. It was easier this trip, courtesy of an extra top bunk Mike Francis had discovered.

There were other trips. To Columbia, Mo., Norman, Okla., and other way points over the Big Seven realm.

For nearly two years, in fact, your finger was sort of a hobo observer of the Huskers.

Red Smith, Grantland Rice and all those real famous fellows never were treated more royally.

Thanks, Mister Selleck, for not noticing.

Pitts, Janetos Leaving Peru; Stemper New Grid Assistant

PERU, Neb. (AP)—Peru State College President Neal J. Gorman has announced the appointment of an assistant football coach and the resignation of an associate professor of school administration and secondary education.

Jerome D. Stemper will replace Irvin R. Pitts as assistant grid mentor on Sept. 1. Pitts resigned last week to become head coach at Dakota Wesleyan University, Mitchell, S. D.

Pete Janetos

Dr. Peter Janetos has resigned from the education department to accept the position of director of admissions and placement at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H.

Janetos joined the Peru faculty in Sept. 1953, after receiving his Ph. D. degree in school administration from the University of Nebraska. During 1952-53 he served as part-time administrative assistant in the Lincoln Public Schools.

Stemper's appointment advances him from director of athletics and math instructor at the T. J. Majors Campus School at Peru State, a position he has held for four years.

Garcia Ruins Indians

*SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP)—Dave Garcia's home run in the eighth inning clinched a Sioux City comeback Monday night as the Sox edged Wichita, 5-4, to take the odd game of the series.

Garcia's clutch, which cleared the left field fence with plenty to spare, came with the Sox manager leading off the eighth and broke a 4-4 tie.

big factors in Globe's win. Frappia fanned nine and walked four, in addition to hitting a pair of doubles.

In the second inning, two-baggers by Lewis Brown, Dean Sell and Frappia, plus singles by Jimmy Crippa and John Kellogg, figured in the scoring. A walk to Russ Lundquist, a wild pitch, a balk and a passed ball also helped.

Mack's started the game with two runs as Don Flynn, Bill Stevens, Jim Maul and Rowan Belknap got consecutive base hits to lead off the first inning. A walk to Stephens and an error led to another Mack's run in the second.

Anderson Hardware pushed across two runs in the last inning for a 6-4 margin over Lawlor's, who rallied for three runs in the seventh. A walk, an error and singles by Bob Kaminski and Jerry McKay brought in the three Lawlor's runs in the seventh. Bob Barnett tripled in the only other run in the second inning.

Pitcher Rudy Stoehr's infield out and Ron Long's single drove in the two winning runs for Anderson in the seventh. Stoehr, who fanned 10, batted in two runs in the fifth inning and pushed in a single marker in the third with a squeeze bunt.

Cut-Rate Feed Grain Approved For Drought Areas

... Missouri, Oklahoma Eligible

WASHINGTON (INS)—The administration announced Monday that feed grain will be made available to farmers in drought-stricken areas at a discount of 60 cents per hundred pounds.

The plan was outlined by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson at the White House after he conferred with President Eisenhower on the drought situation affecting a dozen states.

Mr. Eisenhower also designated two more drought-belt states, Missouri and Oklahoma, as major disaster areas eligible for the emergency federal aid.

Eligible farmers will buy the grain through regular feed-grain dealers at 60 cents less than the market price, with the government paying the difference to the dealers.

The price paid by the farmer will be considerably higher than under last year's drought relief program, when the government sold corn at a flat one dollar a bushel.

New Program

Benson said that under the new program, the price to the farmer will be below a $1.50 a bushel, with the government subsidy amounting to about 33 cents a bushel on corn.

Only farmers in sections designated major disaster areas will be eligible for the emergency aid, designed to help farmers and ranchers maintain their herds of cattle, goats and sheep.

Seventy-six counties in Missouri and 26 in Oklahoma were designated as disaster areas as Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming have previously been declared disaster areas.

Other States

Six other states have applied for the designation which would make them eligible for the emergency benefits. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Georgia and Tennessee.

The 60-cent subsidy will be paid on barley, oats and sorghum as well as corn.

Nehru To Skip Asia Pact Talk

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Hindustan Times and the Evening News said Monday Prime Minister Nehru has refused British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's invitation to attend the Southeast Asian defense conference in Singapore next month.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman commented:

"The government of India has nothing to say about certain private correspondence which passed between Nehru and Eden and Nehru and the prime ministers of the Colombo Powers."

India, Pakistan, Indonesia, Burma and Ceylon are the Colombo Powers, a regional group that meets occasionally to consider world problems.

The newspapers' dispatches, from Colombo, said Nehru decided to decline to attend the Singapore session on the principle that such a defense organization always presupposed the existence of an enemy, thereby tending to increase tension in Southeast Asia.

Quake Aftershock Rocks Nevada City

FALLON, Nev. (INS)—A strong aftershock of the devastating earthquake that struck Fallon on July 6 rocked the city early Monday, opening new cracks in some downtown buildings weakened by last month's upheaval.

There were no immediate reports of extensive new damage.

The University of California seismograph at Berkeley, some 225 miles away, recorded the tremor for a total of 10 minutes commencing at 3:10:45 a.m. PDT.

Assistant Seismologist W. C. Martin described the shock as "strong," with an intensity estimated at 5.25 on a Richter scale of a maximum 10.

The July Fallon quake, which tumbled downtown building walls and cornices and split open irrigation canals in a wide area surrounding the city, registered nearly 7 on the Richter scale.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a
